Dental Care for School Children Gets Started

MOREHOUSE -- A new New Madrid county dental care program began in the public schools Thursday with a check of children.

From here, Dr. Wayne Neaville, Sikeston, the dentist, will travel south.

The checkup here involves 500 students, from the first grade through the 12th, and ended today.

The program is sponsored by the federal government, the county health unit and the county school systems. It involves a $12,000 mobile unit, which will arrive in 30 days.

Dr. Neaville is being assisted by Mrs. Edna Ellington of New Madrid.

They will move to Matthews Monday, where all school children's teeth will be examined.

From Matthews, Dr. Neaville and his assistant will travel south to all schools in New Madrid county, for examination of a total of 7,500 students. Portageville schools will be the last in the county to be visited.

Following the dental checkups there will be treatment.

The county will pay the costs of supplies for students. For students, who cannot afford dental care, the costs will be paid by the federal government.

Southwest in Snow's Path

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh storm moving southward across the southern Rockies brought near-zero temperatures and heavy snow to the Southwest today. Snow and severe cold also plagued sections of the north central region while light snow fell over the Midwest and Northeast.

The storm advancing across the Rockies dumped large amounts of snow on parts of Texas and Oklahoma and heavy snow warnings were issued for parts of New Mexico and Kansas.

Snow to a depth of five inches already was on the ground around Amarillo and Childress, Texas, and still falling. Similar amounts were forecast across the heavy snow belt.

Temperatures plunged to 5 above at Dalhart and 6 above at Dumas, near the north edge of the Texas Panhandle. Roads throughout the Southwest storm area were reported open but hazardous.

The snow and subzero cold hit sections in at least 10 states. North Dakota and Montana had the lowest temperatures. But snow and below-zero readings also were reported in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kansas.

The mercury dropped to 30 below zero early today at Dickinson, N. D.

In Wisconsin, with heavy snow across many sections, temperatures were below zero for the eighth straight night.

Snow measured six inches at Goodland, in northwestern Kansas.

Snow amounts in Oklahoma ranged from 3 to 6 inches.

No Letup in Space Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) -- In spite of the heavy budget pressure of the Viet Nam war, the chairman of the House Space Committee expects the administration's space budget to be "in the same ballpark" as last year's.

Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., said in an interview Thursday night, "I expect it to be modestly below last year's request."

Last year Miller's committee authorized a $5.18-billion budget for space exploration, slightly below what the administration requested, and $5.17 billion was actually appropriated for the current fiscal year ends June 30.

Swiss-Born Chef At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Swiss-born chef Henry Haller, 43, takes over Feb. 1 as executive chef at the White House after four years as head cook at the fashionable Sheraton - East Hotel in New York City.

The White House has been without a chef since French-born Rene Verdon quit in a dispute Jan. 1.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) -- The Viet Cong jolted the lunar New Year cease-fire today by attacking a U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nang and engaging South Korean marines in a two-hour close-quarter battle near the central coast. Two Americans and 46 Communists were reported killed.

Two U.S. Marine sergeants were killed when the guerrillas caught a Leatherneck platoon on security patrol in a crossfire of automatic weapons and rifles as it struggled through the mud of a flooded rice paddy 7 miles south of Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans poured artillery fire into the enemy positions. One wounded Viet Cong was captured and six suspects were detained.

By nightfall of the second day of the holiday truce, the U.S. military command reported a total of 49 violations by the Communists, but most were regarded as minor brushes. In Saigon, some overanxious Koreans began shooting when they heard the sound of firecrackers as the Vietnamese greeted the Year of the Horse on the lunar calendar.

Thirty-four of the Communist attacks were reported against U.S., Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops. This raised questions among military observers whether the Communists really intended to include South Viet Nam's allies in the four-day Viet Cong cease-fire.

When the underground Liberation Front radio broadcast the truce terms three weeks ago, it did not specifically include Allied soldiers but said it hoped they would respect the Vietnamese New Year celebration.

The other 15 attacks, all characterized as minor, were against government forces.

The Koreans reported 400 Viet Cong attacked a platoon of their marines shortly after midnight 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Korean military spokesman said the marines beat off the attack and killed 46 of the Communists.

Japan Fails in Peace Move

MOSCOW (AP) -- Foreign Minister Tetsuhiro Shima of Japan said today he had been unable to reach any agreement with the Soviet Union on efforts to bring peace to Viet Nam.

He told a news conference he had asked the Russians to "exercise their influence to convince North Viet Nam to start negotiations with the United States."

But in talks with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Shima said, he was told "the Soviet Union is not directly involved and therefore is not going to be a mediator."

Lovejoy Will Address Club

Philip Lovejoy of Ormond Beach, Fla., who was general secretary of Rotary International 10 years, will address the Bootheel Dinner Club Monday at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Mr. Alexander Klein, announced today.

Lovejoy has spoken to organizations in South America, West Indies, Mexico, Netherlands, England, Ireland, France, Germany, India, Siam, Australia and New Zealand.

He has been decorated by the president of Chile and holds the King Christian X Medal of Denmark.

Berliners Look at War Horror

The picture is on posters at the entrance to an exhibit on the World War II Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz, Poland. Bigger than life black and white photographs, documents, prison uniforms and cans of poison gas used in the camp's gas chambers depict the inner workings at the Nazi death mill. A movie on the camp is shown three times a day.

The exhibit, sponsored jointly by the city government, political parties, youth groups and labor unions, is in its third week. It was scheduled to close Jan. 30 but has been extended a month.

Some 20,000 West Berliners have seen it since Jan. 2. "Currently, about 2,000 people see the display daily," said a spokesman, Hans Kirshner.

The exhibition is at the Gallery of the 20th Century on a side street near the main railway station.

Interest is high because West Berlin has never had such an exhibit, Kirshner said, "but the crowds here are no bigger than those that went to see it in West Germany."

The exhibit was put together during the 20-month trial of 20 of the camp's functionaries that ended in Frankfurt last August. School and youth groups are encouraged to come and a large percentage of those who do are young people. An attendant said most people look in absolute silence.

No Call for Reserves Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Johnson administration's blueprint for strengthening the armed forces contains two strong indications that it intends to avoid calling Reservists or National Guardsmen to active duty.

One is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to Congress that more support-type units must be provided for the regular Army, "inasmuch as it appears desirable to be in a position to deploy additional forces without calling up Reservists."

The other indication lies in the decision to create a new 18,000-man division for the regular Marine Corps.

Congress to Vote War Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Sen. Richard B. Russell predicted today that Congress will approve "practically all" of the $12.76 billion in supplemental funds requested by President Johnson to help pay for the Viet Nam war.

The Georgia Democrat commented as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara prepared to resume testimony on the request to combined sessions of the Senate's Armed Services Committee and Defense Appropriations subcommittee. Russell is chairman of both.

In testimony Thursday, McNamara disclosed plans for "massive application of firepower in Viet Nam and said, 'We must be prepared to deploy even more forces' if the Reds expand their operations."

LONDON (AP) -- George Harrison, one of the Beatles, today married Pattie Boyd, an actress who appeared with the quartet in their first film, "A Hard Day's Night."

Harrison's marriage leaves Paul McCartney the only unwed Beatle.

Politicians Can't Solve Rivalries in Nigeria

KADUNA, Nigeria (AP) -- The army took over Nigeria because in five years as a nation the politicians couldn't solve the tribal and religious rivalries that beset most of Africa's new nations.

The breaking point was the election three months ago in the western region and its bloody aftermath.

One of the six army majors who planned the rebellion says it was originally scheduled for December, a time when arson, looting, and murder was widespread in Western Nigeria. Before it was ousted last

Gangland Figure Killed

CASEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) -- George A. (Stumpy) Harvill, 42, a close associate of reputed southern Illinois gangland figure Frank (Buster) Wortman, was shot to death early today outside the Caseyville home of his former wife.

Harvill was found lying in a driveway with gunshot wounds of the neck, left arm and back. St. Clair County Chief Deputy Sheriff William Miskell said Caseyville officers arrested John J. Rooney, 31, of Chicago, at the scene.

Miskell said Rooney told him he shot Harvill, but offered no explanation. Rooney was being held for the coroner in the county jail at Belleville.

Harvill was the third close associate of Wortman to be gunned down in three years. The bodies of two Wortman lieutenants, Elmer (Dutch) Dowling and Melvin Beckman, were found dumped on a lonely gravel road near Belleville in 1962. Both had been shot in the head.

Miskell said Rooney and Harvill's former wife, Anita Sarro, 31, had been out together shortly before the shooting. He said Harvill was waiting when they returned to her home.

Miskell said Rooney turned over an English-made .45 caliber officer's.

A U.S. District Court jury in East St. Louis acquitted Wortman Thursday of federal income tax evasion charges.

Education Study Starts

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- A study of the quality and financing of public school education in Missouri was launched today.

In announcing it, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said he thought the taxpayers ought to be given a report on what they are getting for their money in the schools.

The study will be made by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc. of New York, a non-profit professional organization which already has conducted similar investigations in Kansas, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Delaware and Texas.

It will work under the orders of a 45-member planning committee with Mrs. Glenn L. Moller of Glendale, Mo., and Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton as co-chairmen.

The study will be financed by $45,000 from the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, $17,000 from the Kansas City Association of Trusts and Foundations and $10,000 from the state Board of Education.

West End Park Has New Sponsor

West End Park in Sunset Addition, will now have a new sponsor, with a Girl Scout troop, under leadership of Mrs. Betty Redd, in charge.

The troop will begin a cleanup project in February, and add new facilities, according to the park board.

Veterans of Foreign Wars park on East Malone St. has been added to the city park system. The other parks are Malone, city, American Legion, Clayton and a new facility on South Prairie and Edmundson streets.

Potashnick and Felker File for County Offices

BENTON -- Fielding Potashnick, Scott County Prosecuting Attorney, announced today that he will run for renomination in the Aug. 2 Democratic primary election.

Hess Porter, it was announced today by Phil Waldman, Jr., county clerk, has filed for renomination for county treasurer.

J. E. Childress, Sikeston, has filed for renomination for associate judge of the county court in the first district.

George Germain, Benton, has filed for county court associate judge in the second district.

No Need for Tax Increase

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- Barring expensive new programs or sharply expanded present programs there should be no need for state tax increases before 1970, a special tax study commission was told Thursday.

Arthur W. Betts, legislative fiscal officer, added that the state needs to consider more efficient collection of taxes and more efficient management of its funds.

Eugene G. Bushmann, former assistant attorney general and now state administrative hearing officer, said Missouri's corporate income tax laws should be changed to clear up a legal cloud. He also urged that Missouri adopt the federal income tax base as the starting point for determining individual state income taxes.

He said that would make income tax reporting simpler for the taxpayer and possibly increase state revenue.

Cold Snarls Europe

LONDON (AP) -- Europe's cold wave crippled British industry today, packed the hospitals and threatened major embarrassment for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government.

Cuts in gas supplies disrupted the English Midlands, the hub of British industry. Thousands of workers were laid off for the rest of the week, and assembly lines halted in automobile and engineering plants.

Hospitals reported hundreds of fracture cases brought in from the icy streets.

In Norway, the intense cold seemed to be lifting slightly.

The last three months have been the coldest Oslo has known since official records started 132 years ago.

Sweden, enduring its coldest winter since 1881, reported 43 ships icebound in the northern Baltic.

Rusk Predicts Intensified War

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today "there is every indication" that the Communist side in Viet Nam will intensify its activity after the current lunar new year holiday period ends Sunday.

Rusk told a news conference that President Johnson's peace offensive had failed to get "any positive and encouraging response" from the Vietnamese Communists.

Otherwise he said it had drawn an "overwhelmingly favorable response" throughout the world.

His words indicated that the peace drive and the pause in bombing North Viet Nam have come to the end of a phase, but he avoided saying so directly. He refused to say whether or when the United States will resume bombing the North.

Asked whether the war might spread into other areas, Rusk said "there is always a danger when an aggressor sets out to impose his will by force and the other side is determined to keep its commitments."

This office is occupied by Melvin Glueck, Chaffee, who has filed for circuit clerk.

Paul Crader, Benton, has filed for committeeman in Sylvania Township.

Harris D. Rodgers, Benton, has filed for county court presiding judge.

The only office not filed for, according to Waldman, is recorder of deeds, held by John Bollinger, Benton.

C. E. "Daddy" Felker, former Sikeston mayor, has filed for county collector.

Car Strikes Portageville Man

Mike Warren, 52, Portageville pedestrian, yesterday was struck by a 1956 Chevrolet, driven south by Carl Barker, 31, of Portageville. The accident occurred at 6:05 p.m. on highway 61 in Portageville, the state patrol reported.

He was taken to the Peninsula County Hospital in Hayti, suffering from a fractured right leg and possible internal injuries.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) -- Fidel Castro's threat to intervene in the Dominican Republic has caused the Dominican armed forces to intensify security precautions along the northwest coast.

Burns' Brother Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- William Burns, 63, writer and business manager for his comedian brother George Burns, died Thursday night of pneumonia, friends reported.

Dr. A. D. Martin Runs for Board

Dr. A. D. Martin, 54-year-old physician, of 902 Moore, announces that he will seek reelection in the school board election April 5.

He has served on the board since 1954.

He is married and has four daughters.

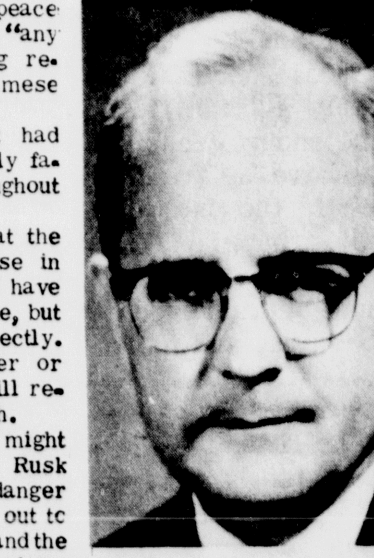

He attended pre-medical school at the University of Missouri and is a graduate of University of Tennessee college of medicine in Memphis.

He received his hospital training at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Texas.

He served as flight surgeon with air evacuation units in Europe during World War II.

He is a member of the First Christian church, Chamber of Commerce, Southeast Missouri County Medical Society, and the American Medical Association.

He has been practicing medicine in Sikeston since 1940, with the exception of four years in the armed services.

Italian Premier Resigns

Moro's resignation was triggered by an embarrassing defeat in the Chamber of Deputies Thursday on his bill to set up state nursery school. He had described the measure as a key reform that the Socialists demanded when entering the coalition in December 1963.

The premier's decision to step down was taken after a meeting with his Cabinet today.

The resignation plunges this Atlantic Alliance nation into unexpected political crisis. Only a few weeks ago it had appeared that Moro probably would be able to hold his coalition government together until the next national parliamentary elections in 1967.

What made Moro's position untenable was a demand from the partners in his Christian Democrat coalition -- the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans -- that he resign because of the legislative defeat.

There have been increasing signs that his government was running into trouble since fiery Amintore Fanfani resigned as foreign minister Dec. 28 after he came home from New York, where he had served as president of the U. N. General Assembly.

Still Talk State Snow

KANSAS CITY (AP) -- The weatherman still is talking about snow in his Missouri forecast.

It is expected to show up today and tonight and from 1 to 3 inches are expected to accumulate in the south. In the northwest the fall is expected to be less than an inch.

Much colder weather also is on the way. The lows tonight will be from zero to 10 above in the north and 10 to 15 in the south. It won't warm up much Saturday when the highs will be 15 to 25.

Lasters Hearing Set for Feb. 10

DONIPHAN -- A preliminary hearing for William E. Lasters, 34, of Sikeston has been continued by agreement until Feb. 10 by order of Magistrate Judge William Dodd of Ripley County. Judge Dodd made the order upon the agreement of attorneys. Lasters' preliminary hearing was originally set for Jan. 25.

Lasters, charged with the first degree robbery of the State Bank of Fisk, took a change of venue when he appeared Monday in magistrate court before Judge Francis M. Kinder in Poplar Bluff.

Lasters is free on a $25,000 bond.

He is accused of robbing the Fisk bank of $5,914.81 in a robbery at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 27. Lasters was arrested two hours later in a tavern near Dudley.

East Prairie Postmaster Given Award

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Postmasters of 14 communities, including East Prairie, Mo., were commended by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien today for their cooperation in President Johnson's program to spruce up the nation.

O'Brien awarded the postmasters special citations and said: "We reach into every city, town and village in this land... If our postmasters show that beauty is important to them, that they, busy as they are, be set by a tidal wave of mail, still take time and pride in making their post office a place that delights the eye... then they will have planted seeds that will spread and bloom in a thousand ways."

The picture is on posters at the entrance to an exhibit on the World War II Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz, Poland.

Bigger - than - life black and white photographs, documents, prison uniforms and cans of poison gas used in the camp's gas chambers depict the inner workings at the Nazi death mill. A movie on the camp is shown three times a day.

The exhibit, sponsored jointly by the city government, political parties, youth groups and labor unions, is in its third week. It was scheduled to close Jan. 30 but has been extended a month.

Some 20,000 West Berliners have seen it since Jan. 2. "Currently, about 2,000 people see the display daily," said a spokesman, Hans Kirshner.

The exhibition is at the Gallery of the 20th Century on a side street near the main railway station.

Interest is high because West Berlin has never had such an exhibit, Kirshner said, "but the crowds here are no bigger than those that went to see it in West Germany."

The exhibit was put together during the 20-month trial of 20 of the camp's functionaries that ended in Frankfurt last August.

School and youth groups are encouraged to come and a large percentage of those who do are young people. An attendant said most people look in absolute silence.

No Call for Reserves Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Johnson administration's blueprint for strengthening the armed forces contains two strong indications that it intends to avoid calling Reservists or National Guardsmen to active duty.

One is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to Congress that more support-type units must be provided for the regular Army, "inasmuch as it appears desirable to be in a position to deploy additional forces without calling up Reservists."

The other indication lies in the decision to create a new 18,000-man division for the regular Marine Corps.

Congress to Vote War Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Sen. Richard B. Russell predicted today that Congress will approve "practically all" of the $12.76 billion in supplemental funds requested by President Johnson to help pay for the Viet Nam war.

The Georgia Democrat commented after the House Committee on Appropriations and Defense Appropriations subcommittee. Russell is chairman of both.

In testimony Thursday, McNamara disclosed plans for "massive application of firepower in Viet Nam and said, 'We must be prepared to deploy even more forces' if the Reds expand their operations."

Harrison's marriage leaves Paul McCartney the only unwed Beatle.

Politicians Can't Solve Rivalries in Nigeria

KADUNA, Nigeria (AP) -- The army took over Nigeria because in five years as a nation the politicians couldn't solve the tribal and religious rivalries that beset most of Africa's new nations.

The breaking point was the election three months ago in the western region and its bloody aftermath.

One of the six army majors who planned the rebellion says it was originally scheduled for December, a time when arson, looting, and murder was widespread in Western Nigeria.

Gangland Figure Killed

CASEVILLE, Ill. (AP) -- George A. (Stormy) Harvill, 42, a close associate of reputed southern Illinois gangland figure Frank (Buster) Wortman, was shot to death early today outside the Caseyville home of his former wife.

Harvill was found lying in a driveway with gunshot wounds of the neck, left arm and back. St. Clair County Chief Deputy Sheriff William Miskell said Caseyville officers arrested John J. Rooney, 31, of Chicago, at the scene.

Miskell said Rooney told him he shot Harvill, but offered no explanation. Rooney was being held for the coroner in the county jail at Belleville.

Harvill was the third close associate of Wortman to be gunned down in three years. The bodies of two Wortman lieutenants, Elmer (Dutch) Dowling and Melvin Beckman, were found dumped on a lonely gravel road near Belleville in 1962.

Both had been shot in the head. Miskell said Rooney and Harvill's former wife, Anita Sarro, 31, had been out together shortly before the shooting. He said Harvill was waiting when they returned to her home.

Miskell said Rooney turned over an English-made .45 caliber revolver.

A U.S. District Court jury in East St. Louis acquitted Wortman Thursday of federal income tax evasion charges.

Education Study Starts

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- A study of the quality and financing of public school education in Missouri was launched today.

In announcing it, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said he thought the taxpayers ought to be given a report on what they are getting for their money in the schools.

The study will be made by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc. of New York, a non-profit professional organization which already has conducted similar investigations in Kansas, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Delaware and Texas.

It will work under the orders of a 45-member planning committee with Mrs. Glenn L. Moller of Glendale, Mo., and Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton as co-chairmen.

The study will be financed by $45,000 from the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, $17,000 from the Kansas City Association of Trusts and Foundations and $10,000 from the state Board of Education.

West End Park Has New Sponsor

West End Park in Sunset Addition, will now have a new sponsor, with a Girl Scout troop, under leadership of Mrs. Betty Redd, in charge.

The troop will begin a cleanup project in February, and add new facilities, according to the park board.

Veterans of Foreign Wars park on East Malone St., has been added to the city park system. The other parks are Malone, city, American Legion, Clayton and a new facility on South Prairie and Edmundson streets.

Potashnick and Felker File for County Offices

BENTON -- Fielding Potashnick, Scott County Prosecuting Attorney, announced today that he will run for renomination in the Aug. 2 Democratic primary election.

Hess Porter, it was announced today by Phil Waldman, Jr., county clerk, has filed for renomination for county treasurer.

J. E. Childress, Sikeston, has filed for renomination for associate judge of the county court in the first district.

George Germain, Benton, has filed for county court associate judge in the second district.

This office is occupied by Melvin Glueck, Chaffee, who has filed for circuit clerk.

Paul Crader, Benton, has filed for committeeman in Sylvania Township.

Harris D. Rodgers, Benton, has filed for county court presiding judge.

The only office not filed for, according to Waldman, is recorder of deeds, held by John Bollinger, Benton.

C. E. "Daddy" Felker, former Sikeston mayor, has filed for county collector.

No Need for Tax Increase

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- Barring expensive new programs or sharply expanded present programs there should be no need for state tax increases before 1970, a special tax study commission was told Thursday.

Arthur W. Betts, legislative fiscal officer, added that the state needs to consider more efficient collection of taxes and more efficient management of its funds.

Eugene G. Bushman, former assistant attorney general and now state administrative hearing officer, said Missouri's corporate income tax laws should be changed to clear up a legal cloud. He also urged that Missouri adopt the federal income tax base as the starting point for determining individual state income taxes.

He said that would make income tax reporting simpler for the taxpayer and possibly increase state revenue.

Cold Snarls Europe

LONDON (AP) -- Europe's cold wave crippled British industry today, packed the hospitals and threatened major embarrassment for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government.

Cuts in gas supplies disrupted the English Midlands, the hub of British industry. Thousands of workers were laid off for the rest of the week, and assembly lines halted in automobile and engineering plants.

Hospitals reported hundreds of fracture cases brought in from the icy streets.

In Norway, the intense cold seemed to be lifting slightly. The last three months have been the coldest Oslo has known since official records started 132 years ago.

Sweden, enduring its coldest winter since 1881, reported 43 ships icebound in the northern Baltic.

Rusk Predicts Intensified War

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today "there is every indication" that the Communist side in Viet Nam will intensify its activity after the current lunar new year holiday period ends Sunday.

Rusk told a news conference that President Johnson's peace offensive had failed to get "any positive and encouraging response" from the Vietnamese Communists.

Otherwise he said it had drawn an "overwhelmingly favorable response" throughout the world.

His words indicated that the peace drive and the pause in bombing North Viet Nam have come to the end of a phase, but he avoided saying so directly.

He refused to say whether or when the United States will resume bombing the North.

Asked whether the war might spread into other areas, Rusk said "there is always a danger when an aggressor sets out to impose his will by force and the other side is determined to keep its commitments."

Car Strikes Portageville Man

MIKE WARREN, 52, Portageville pedestrian, yesterday was struck by a 1956 Chevrolet, driven south by Carl Barker, 31, of Portageville. The accident occurred at 6:05 p.m. on highway 61 in Portageville, the state patrol reported.

He was taken to the Pemiscot County Hospital in Hayti, suffering from a fractured right leg and possible internal injuries.

Dr. A. D. Martin Runs for Board

Dr. A. D. Martin, 54-year-old physician, of 902 Moore, announces that he will seek reelection in the school board election April 5.

He has served on the board since 1954.

He is married and has four daughters.

He attended pre-medical school at the University of Missouri and is a graduate of University of Tennessee college of medicine in Memphis.

He received his hospital training at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex.

He served as flight surgeon with air evacuation units in Europe during World War II.

He is a member of the First Christian church, Chamber of Commerce, Southeast Missouri County Medical Society, and the American Medical Association.

He has been practicing medicine in Sikeston since 1940, with the exception of four years in the armed services.

Moro's resignation was triggered by an embarrassing defeat in the Chamber of Deputies Thursday on his bill to set up state nursery school. He had described the measure as a key reform that the Socialists demanded when entering the coalition in December 1963.

The premier's decision to step down was taken after a meeting with his Cabinet today.

The resignation plunges this Atlantic Alliance nation into unexpected political crisis. Only a few weeks ago it had appeared that Moro probably would be able to hold his coalition government together until the next national parliamentary elections in 1967.

What made Moro's position untenable was a demand from the partners in his Christian Democrat coalition - the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans - that he resign because of the legislative defeat.

There have been increasing signs that his government was running into trouble since fiery Amintore Fanfani resigned as foreign minister Dec. 28 after he came home from New York, where he had served as president of the U. N. General Assembly.

Lasters Hearing Set for Feb. 10

DONIPHAN -- A preliminary hearing for William E. Lasters, 34, of Sikeston has been continued by agreement until Feb. 10 by order of Magistrate Judge William Dodd of Ripley County. Judge Dodd made the order upon the agreement of attorneys. Lasters' preliminary hearing was originally set for Jan. 25.

Lasters, charged with the first degree robbery of the State Bank of Fisk, took a change of venue when he appeared Monday in magistrate court before Judge Francis M. Klinker in Poplar Bluff.

Lasters is free on a $25,000 bond.

He is accused of robbing the Fisk bank of $5,914.81 in a robbery at 2:30 p.m. Dec. 27. Lasters was arrested two hours later in a tavern near Dudley.

East Prairie Postmaster Given Award

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Friday, January 21, 1368, Whirr-on-the-Moops, England - Charity Cleebens becomes wealthy from royalties on memoirs, buys Italy.

There should be nearly unanimous agreement in Sikeston about the choice for this year's Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award.

Gordon Beaver has worked like the animal bearing the same name for Sikeston. His efforts have been rewarded by national attention given to the community choir he directs. His high school chorus is outstanding year after year.

He is a different kind of community leader. He works quietly and he is a modest person. There has been no change in his hat size since he started his good works in our community. Our hat is off to him.

He is generous and gracious in offering the talents of the musical groups he directs in the community and in the Sikeston area. The time that he spends in this service is over and beyond any reasonable, normal requirement.

There never has been any more worthy recipient of this award for community service by a man, 21 to 35 years of age, than this public school music teacher.

Earl Jarvis, whose honorary membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce joins a long list of his achievements, earned his spurs the hard way. He shared the chairmanship of an outstandingly successful effort to raise money for the site of the mental retardation center to be built in Sikeston, which produced enough for streets, landscaping and developing the grounds.

Peter Myers, Canalou farmer, is an outstanding young representative of the area's agricultural community and of its basic industry. Ernest Harper, the boss of the year, has long been a community leader whose activities are by no means limited to vigorous support of the Jaycees.

The Jaycees themselves deserve an award for this important work of recognizing the vigorous living of this growing community.

An active community man in Sikeston isn't forced to wait for death for recognition. Much of the credit goes to the Jaycees for making it so.

Bill Corrigan says: "The encouraging thing about the future is that it can only come one day at a time."

DRAFTING THE ATHLETES

When a nation begins drafting its top professional athletes, one can be sure there is really a war on. Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will get another look from his Louisville, Kentucky, draft board, which had classified him 1-Y because he failed to pass the Army's mental tests. "I just wasn't good at all them triangles and things," explains Clay in telling why he went down for the count during the exam.

It would seem to be in the order of things that graduating college football stars go on active military duty before turning professional. But such is rarely the case. While still in college many of the players marry and have children--grounds for deferment at present--and others join "Reserve" military units. Some of these units, as Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey recently pointed out, "aren't doing anything."

A case can be made for deferring professional athletes, whose youthful days of wine and roses are definitely numbered. Joe Louis lost some big pay days while in the Army during World War II (although he never complained), and Ted Williams spent some of his best years in the Marine Corps in World War II and again during the Korean callup. Nevertheless, only a nation as rich in manpower as the United States can have its guns and its athletes, too.

Untended water pipes often burst in the winter because water increases in volume as it changes to ice. The ratio is 11 cubic inches of water to 12 cubic inches of ice.

BILLIONS FOR A BEV

Kentucky has offered to pay a good part of $300 million--almost a third of $1 billion--and afford a free site for a new governmental research project. Nevada has offered up to 100,000 acres for the right to have the site. Michigan has offered to match any offer made by any other state.

This is just a sample of the furious bidding among states to have the government build its projected 200 billion electron-volt (BEV) proton accelerator within their borders. From 45 states, 110 proposals poured into Washington since the Atomic Energy Commission announced its plans last spring. These have been pared down to 85 proposals from 43 states, which were sent to the National Academy of Sciences for evaluation in early autumn. NAS should report to the AEC by the end of January.

Why are the states so eager to have the world's mightiest atom-smasher? Well, the building project alone will mean great prosperity and thousands of jobs over a period of years for the chosen state. An annual operating cost of $60 million means more business and more jobs for any community.

The BEV is needed, the government says, to keep this country ahead of the Soviet Union in nuclear research. As of now, the largest of these huge laboratories is a 33 BEV at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, Russia is reported building a 70 BEV job, which will be completed this year.

Up until now the selection of a site in this country has been thoroughly scientific, despite the pressuring from the states. But as U.S. News & World Report suggests (Jan. 3, 1966), the political jockeying will start in March or April, when AEC's recommendations reach the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of Congress. "Congress, not a committee of scientists," asserts the magazine, "will make the final decision on whether the accelerator will be built, and where."

Parson Jim Hackney says: "Dignity is the capacity to hold back on the tongue what never should have been on the mind in the first place."

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

The Hair Hassle on Sikeston High School faculty and the students is really not worthy of publicity.

The faculty must set the standards of dress, appearance, deportment, etc.

So boys and girls save your high blood pressure for your old age.

The faculty have kicked no one out of school nor do they act as though they wanted to.

A fair proposition the boys are given their choice: get the hair cut in a conventional manner or style or keep your hair as you want it and stay home. No kicking out, the student himself makes the choice.

We think that if the schools are overcrowded and they need more room, they might get it by sending home the young Misses or Mrs. that are pregnant.

And a little advice to the administrators!

THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS DAY
A Layman's Answer For The Man Of God Who Asks--Why Me?

Members of the clergy and rabbinate are closer to the raw realities of the highway accident situation than any other group of people, with the possible exception of police officers, physicians, ambulance drivers, and hospital emergency room attendants.

Because our rabbis, priests, and ministers have this firsthand knowledge of the horrible price being paid for the privilege of operating a motor car with a minimum restraint, they should be dedicated champions of traffic safety and should be its most outspoken exponents. Perhaps they are. . .

Except for an occasional newspaper photograph showing the final rites of his faith being administered to a dying traffic victim, the general public is rarely exposed to the myriad services religious people perform in behalf of those suffering physical or mental anguish as the result of these occurrences.

Many times a priest is minister, a rabbi, or a priest is confronted by the awful results of highway tragedies. . . Here are some of the things a spiritual leader experiences: He has heard humans, hopelessly trapped by twisted metal, beg for a quick death to bring to an end the excruciating pain. He has tried vainly to comfort a mother who saw her only child crushed beneath the wheels of a speeding automobile.

He has blotted the beads of perspiration from the brow of a dying youth and whispered the promise of eternal life as life slowly ebbed away in a roadside ditch. He has seen strong men cry as they re-assembled that which remained of what had been a group of fun - loving Americans.

He has drawn a sheet over the forever-stilled body of a young mother while nearby her terrorized child pleaded, "I want my mommy."

He has steadied the step of a sorrowing widow enroute to a funeral parlor and heard her ask over and over again, "What's to become of my children?"

He has seen a radiant wife transformed into a sobbing and completely irrational creature of despair by the word that her husband is lying dead in a morgue.

He has looked down from his pulpit upon many pathetic sights. He has seen a flower-banked casket which remained closed to spare the victim's family and friends the proof that a high-speed, head-on collision can do terrible things to a human body. He has seen several caskets of varying sizes, because highway accidents wipe out entire families - babies and all.

He has attempted to reason with the grief-crazed father who threatened to wreak vengeance upon the person of the driver who "killed my boy."

He has visited remorseful prisoners who learned the hard way a motor vehicle, improperly used, can be as lethal as a gun. He has sought to relieve the tortured conscience of a driver who, in a moment of carelessness, caused the death of a human being.

He has visited the homes in which there is dire need because the breadwinner of the family met an untimely death or was permanently incapacitated in a needless highway mishap.

He has sought to rekindle the desire to live in the heart of a lonely one who was left behind because of a sudden death of a loved one.

He has aided, by frequent visits and by words of cheer, the recovery of patients who faced the future as helpless invalids because of traffic accidents.

A religious leader is an ex-officio member of every family which composes his congregation and as such he shares many of their joys, sorrows, and problems. Their grief, his grief and their losses are his losses. When tragedy strikes a member of his congregation, he suffers too.

True, many of these tragedies are not by-products of motorized transportation, and there is little a man of God can do to prevent them. But it is just as true that much of the grief and suffering his people undergo is traceable to highway accidents, and there is something he can do about these.

After delivering a funeral sermon over the battered and torn earthly remains of a man with whom he has worked and worshiped, and after attempting to console his widow and children, a religious leader must ask himself (and his God) why

The girls looked at one another, arose, and started for the door. "Young ladies," said the professor, "the next plane doesn't leave until tomorrow afternoon."

"CONSTRUCTIVE, 1950," 8TH INSTALLMENT

Continuing with the statements of principles "constructives" may stress, keeping in mind that issues constantly change in relative importance:

g. "Constructives" will maintain an economy minimizing waste, which in its workings will protect the savings of those who have saved and in the past supported the government by buying its bonds. This economy must leave in the possession of those who earn and produce all earnings above the cost of economical administration of the government.

h. "Constructives" will advocate a government which does not exact a pound of freedom for every service offered and an administration of that government which the people can understand and whose actions they can anticipate by consulting the laws enacted by their representatives.

i. "Constructives" will provide salaries for those who teach the nation's youth commensurate with the cost and effort required of the teachers to prepare themselves to fill their noble profession and sufficient to reward them for their high ability, which enables them to teach. Payment of high salaries will be good economy for the public because such pay will enable the teachers themselves to enjoy the benefits of the private enterprise system, be capitalists in their unassuming way and thereby become enthusiastic advocates of that system.

The sane, useful, valuable citizen, the finished product of the teacher's unselfish guidance of the child during its formative years, will constitute a veritable bulwark of freedom and liberty. There will be no poisonous seeds planted in the youthful mind to develop later in time of travail into suspicion and doubt our nation, an inclination to destroy our nation.

Fact is that Reuther is most eager to work with the President on the poverty front at home and the propaganda and diplomatic fronts abroad.

There is, for example, confidential word from inside the three-man labor bloc in the President's task force on automation that Reuther is taking the most conservative position in the group.

The labor contingent has objected to the majority's report that automation is not a curse and can be bested by stimulating a prosperous economy, so there will be jobs for all despite that old - devil computer.

Two members of the labor contingent, Al Hayes, former president of the militant Machinists and Joe Beltrame, head of the Communications Workers of America, sometime ago decided to attack this happier viewpoint and urge a shorter work week as partial answer to the "threat" of the electronic brain. But Reuther has been reluctant to go along.

For Reuther to object, even behind closed doors, to a shorter work week is like Lyndon Johnson refusing to permit the U. S. to accept a billion dollar repayment in gold from Gen. de Gaulle to even the gold outflow.

But Reuther has fought such a suggestion. President Johnson is opposed to the work - week cut.

Those who have observed Reuther these past few years have been surprised to see him turn from being the loyal opposition to being just plain loyal to Mr. Johnson.

Just the other day in Detroit he skinned the image of his former CIO colleague, Mike Quill. Reuther actually said that "Society can't tolerate stoppages which endanger the very existence of society." He even conceded that some strikes were obsolete -- though he was, after all, talking about a subway and bus stoppage.

And it has been the usually placid Machinists' union -- not his traditionally militant Auto - Ists, which has been striking the defense and aerospace industries, though both organizations have been and are in new contract negotiations.

Only the handful of us who were on the floor during the final hours of the AFL-CIO Convention, heard Walter Reuther take a position on Viet Nam. He did say:

"I am in support of the (pro-Viet Nam war resolution because the resolution stands behind the position of President Johnson."

If Mr. Reuther is not careful, his old friends will become him charging he has become an elder statesman.

WASHINGTON -- Most important and secret peace formula so far proposed in the backstage Viet Nam peace maneuvering is that submitted to Moscow calling for neutralization of the entire Indo - Chinese Peninsula under the International Control Commission.

Net result would be to increase Russian influence in Southeast Asia at the expense of Chinese influence. This the United States much prefers.

Actually, this proposal has been made by the British, but with American willingness to withdraw from Viet Nam, with the International Control Commission then taking over, not only in South Viet Nam but Laos and Cambodia, to keep the entire area neutral. The commission would also take jurisdiction in North Viet Nam.

The International Control Commission was created under the Geneva Treaty of 1954 which arranged for French withdrawal. Its members are India, Canada and Poland. The Russians would have indirect representation through Poland, the United States and Britain would have some influence through Canada.

The commission would have to be given more power and some kind of a police force to enforce neutrality.

So far no reply from the Russians. None was really expected until sometime after Shelepin returned from his trip to Hanoi, possibly not until after British Prime Minister Harold Wilson goes to Moscow Feb. 21-24.

COCKY PREMIER KY

Chief reason Secretary of State Rusk went to Saigon was to persuade Premier Ky to take a deep breath and not knock over the peace talks -- at least not publicly. Ky, who has brazenly admitted that his hero is Adolf Hitler, has been popping like a Mexican "jumping" bean ever since the Johnson peace offensive got going.

As recently revealed by Clay - to Fritchey, Ky has told Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge repeatedly that he would not go along with peace talks, that he is not ready to sit down at the conference table, and that the United States cannot commit the government of South Viet Nam to peace.

Chief reason Ky is so jittery is that his government controls only about 700 villages out of 2,600 in South Viet Nam, in other words about one - third of the territory. He isn't strong enough to go to the conference table, and he wouldn't have the ghost of a chance of survival if American troops pulled out.

Some of Ky's military commanders feel even stronger about this, and there have been rumors that if the United States goes too far with peace, Ky will be either ousted or assassinated.

This is why Rusk stopped off in Saigon. He was successful - publicly. But privately, the bantam Premier of South Viet Nam is still about as sore as a stepped-on crocodile in the Mekong River.

The Air Force, which has a reputation for giving straight answers to newsmen, has been fudging regarding the President's future son-in-law, Pat

Nugent, now on active duty with the Air National Guard. Air Force officials claimed Pat had only one weekend off during the Christmas holidays. "Twentyn't so. Pat had more weekends off than any other man at Lackland Air Force base. . . two biographers of my ex-mother-in-law, Cissy Patterson, have been racing to publish books on her glamorous, satiric career. Alice Hoge, Cissy's niece, finally beat Paul Hasty of the New York News to the punch. Bennett Cerf sneaked Alice's book "Cissy

Patterson" in for February publication. Doubtless it will bring out "Cissy" in April. . . meanwhile, Frank Waldrop, former editor of the Washington Times-Herald, has finished a fascinating book, "McCormick of Chicago," Cissy Patterson's cousin, the late publisher of the Chicago Tribune . . . Pan American Airways saved a lot of lives in Brazil when it hustled high speed vaccine injectors down to Rio De Janeiro following the catastrophic rains. The entire city was threatened with plague. . . Ohio Democrats have picked Mike Sweeney, a highly respected Ohio legislator, to run against unpopular Democratic Congressman Mike Feighan. Once a dedicated member of Congress, Feighan has turned sour.

TENDER TIGER

A different kind of student Viet Nam demonstration is being staged at Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa., where I drilled during World War I. PMC students have organized "Operation Tender Tiger" to build an orphanage in South Viet Nam. "If we win the war and lose the people," says Noel Koch, a 26-year-old Viet Nam war veteran, now at PMC, "then we prove the Biblical admonishment that we profit nothing if we gain the world and lose our souls."

At the rate the Viet Cong are winning popular support in South Viet Nam, Koch would appear to be right.

To combat this, PMC students have devised a symbol of a ferocious tiger with an olive branch in its teeth and are selling "Operation Tender Tiger" buttons to raise money for the orphanage.

The idea has spread to nearby high schools, and 22 of them are also selling Tender Tiger buttons.

Students in other colleges might take note.

Johnson Asks FBI to Probe Reuther -- Wants Him For Special Missions.

Washington, D. C.: -- FBI agents now have fully investigated Walter Reuther.

This means he's wanted for something -- but for what? Late last November, J. Edgar Hoover's men began dropping in on a handful of knowledgeable who had followed the "red - head's" career from the very first sit-in. As the inquiry spread, the buzzing spread.

Some of Reuther's devoted friends, to whom the FBI is a fox, cried out in alarm. They honor their friend and champion, so their concern is understandable.

However, they could have saved themselves their insomnia. It was the White House which ordered the name-check on Reuther. Someone there wanted to auto - union chief for a highly - placed; special assignment. He was to have access to classified information, involving the security of the nation.

So Reuther, along with judges, Attorneys - General, military men and even Central Intelligence Agency wraiths, was treated no differently than Hubert Humphrey or Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

It was, and is, President Johnson who wants to use Reuther in many areas. The name-check came after a decision to make the Detroit a high - policy consultant to the State Dept.

He passed the test. He is an adviser. He has some cloak and dagger ideas. But that no longer is the province of the FBI. From now on, "Walter" is one of the rarefied elements with which the CIA will have to conjure.

But that is astro - political stuff. Much more earthy is the fact that President Johnson likes him, trusts him and believes he can be something of value on the crackling international front. The feeling is mutual. But this is only the beginning -- though the men have been friends since 1948.

Both the President of the U.S. and the President of the United Auto Workers realize the red-head has an image problem.

Many remember the militant young man of the thirties, who so efficiently marched his followers into auto plants, locked them in, sat them down and arranged for their logistics, that an Army major assigned to patrol that particular auto city admirably urged Reuther to join the War Dept.

Reuther and his intellectual brother, Victor, are most conscious of this and some observers now say the union leader is remaking his image -- and perhaps reworking his thinking.

Only the handful of us who were on the floor during the final hours of the AFL-CIO Convention, heard Walter Reuther take a position on Viet Nam. He did say:

"I am in support of the (pro-Viet Nam war resolution because the resolution stands behind the position of President Johnson."

C. L. BLANTON, Jr., Managing Editor, Entered at the Postoffice of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri as Second Class Mail Matter according to Act of Congress March 3, 1879, Saturday, February 4th, 1960.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Friday, January 21, 1368, Whirn-on-the-Moops, England - Charity Cleebens becomes wealthy from royalties on memoirs, buys Italy.

There should be nearly unanimous agreement in Sikeston about the choice for this year's Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award.

Gordon Beaver has worked like the animal bearing the same name for Sikeston. His efforts have been rewarded by national attention given to the community choir he directs. His high school chorus is outstanding year after year.

He is a different kind of community leader. He works quietly and he is a modest person. There has been no change in his hat size since he started his good works in our community. Our hat is off to him.

He is generous and gracious in offering the talents of the musical groups he directs in the community and in the Sikeston area. The time that he spends in this service is over and beyond any reasonable, normal requirement.

There never has been any more worthy recipient of this award for community service by a man, 21 to 35 years of age, than this public school music teacher.

Earl Jarvis, whose honorary membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce joins a long list of his achievements, earned his spurs the hard way. He shared the chairmanship of an outstandingly successful effort to raise money for the site of the mental retardation center to be built in Sikeston, which produced enough for streets, landscaping and developing the grounds.

Peter Myers, Canalou farmer, is an outstanding young representative of the area's agricultural community and of its basic industry. Ernest Harper, the boss of the year, has long been a community leader whose activities are by no means limited to vigorous support of the Jaycees.

The Jaycees themselves deserve an award for this important work of recognizing the vigorous living of this growing community.

An active community man in Sikeston isn't forced to wait for death for recognition. Much of the credit goes to the Jaycees for making it so.

Bill Corrigan says: "The encouraging thing about the future is that it can only come one day at a time."

DRAFTING THE ATHLETES

When a nation begins drafting its top professional athletes, one can be sure there is really a war on. Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will get another look from his Louisville, Kentucky, draft board, which had classified him 1-Y because he failed to pass the Army's mental tests. "I just wasn't good at all them triangles and things," explains Clay in telling why he went down for the count during the exam.

It would seem to be in the order of things that graduating college football stars go on active military duty before turning professional. But such is rarely the case. While still in college many of the players marry and have children--grounds for deferral at present--and others join "Reserve" military units. Some of these units, as Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey recently pointed out, "aren't doing anything."

A case can be made for deferring professional athletes, whose youthful days of wine and roses are definitely numbered. Joe Louis lost some big pay days while in the Army during World War II (although he never complained), and Ted Williams spent some of his best years in the Marine Corps in World War II and again during the Korean callup. Nevertheless, only a nation as rich in manpower as the United States can have its guns and its athletes, too.

Untended water pipes often burst in the winter because water increases in volume as it changes to ice. The ratio is 11 cubic inches of water to 12 cubic inches of ice.

BILLIONS FOR A BEV

Kentucky has offered to pay a good part of $300 million--almost a third of $1 billion--and afford a free site for a new governmental research project. Nevada has offered up to 100,000 acres for the right to have the site. Michigan has offered to match any offer made by any other state.

This is just a sample of the furious bidding among states to have the government build its projected 200 billion electron-volt (BEV) proton accelerator within their borders. From 45 states, 110 proposals poured into Washington since the Atomic Energy Commission announced its plans last spring. These have been pared down to 85 proposals from 43 states, which were sent to the National Academy of Sciences for evaluation in early autumn. NAS should report to the AEC by the end of January.

Why are the states so eager to have the world's mightiest atom-smasher? Well, the building project alone will mean great prosperity and thousands of jobs over a period of years for the chosen state. An annual operating cost of $60 million means more business and more jobs for any community.

The BEV is needed, the government says, to keep this country ahead of the Soviet Union in nuclear research. As of now, the largest of these huge laboratories is a 33 BEV at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, Russia is reported building a 70 BEV job, which will be completed this year.

Up until now the selection of a site in this country has been thoroughly scientific, despite the pressuring from the states. But as U.S. News & World Report suggests (Jan. 3, 1966), the political jockeying will start in March or April, when AEC's recommendations reach the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of Congress. "Congress, not a committee of scientists," asserts the magazine, "will make the final decision on whether the accelerator will be built, and where."

Parson Jim Hackney says: "Dignity is the capacity to hold back on the tongue what never should have been on the mind in the first place."

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

The Hair Hassle between Sikeston High School faculty and the students is really not worthy of publicity.

The faculty must set the standards of dress, appearance, deportment, etc.

So boys and girls save your high blood pressure for your old age.

The faculty have kicked no one out of school nor do they act as though they wanted to.

A fair proposition the boys are given their choice: get the hair cut in a conventional manner or style or keep your hair as you want it and stay home. No kicking out, the student himself makes the choice.

We think that if the schools are overcrowded and they need more room, they might get it by sending home the young Misses or Mrs. that are pregnant.

And a little advice to the administrators! When you make a change in rules why not let the newspaper have a copy so that it can be printed in the paper and then the parents will know just exactly what the ruling is and will not get a dozen or more vocal translations.

This economy must leave in the possession of those who earn and produce all earnings above the cost of economical administration of the government.

"Constructives" will provide salaries for those who teach the nation's youth commensurate with the cost and effort required of the teachers to prepare themselves to fill their noble profession and sufficient to reward them for their high ability, which enables them to teach. Payment of high salaries will be good economy for the public because such pay will enable the teachers themselves to enjoy the benefits of the private enterprise system, be capitalists in their unassuming way and thereby become enthusiastic advocates of that system.

The sane, useful, valuable citizen, the finished product of the teacher's unselfish guidance of the child during its formative years, will constitute a veritable bulwark of freedom and liberty. Johnson Asks FBI to Probe Reuther -- Wants Him For Special Missions.

Washington, D. C.: -- FBI agents now have fully investigated Walter Reuther.

This means he's wanted for something -- but for what? Late last November, J. Edgar Hoover's men began dropping in on a handful of knowledgeable figures who had followed the "red - heads" career from the very first sit-in. As the inquiry spread, the buzzing spread.

Some of Reuther's devoted friends, to whom the FBI is a pox, cried out in alarm. They honor their friend and champion, so their concern is understandable.

However, they could have saved themselves their insomnia. It was the White House which ordered the name-check on Reuther. Someone there wanted the auto union chief for a highly - placed, special assignment. He was to have access to classified information, involving the security of the nation.

So Reuther, along with judges, Attorneys - General, military men and even Central Intelligence Agency wraiths, was treated no differently than Hubert Humphrey or Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

It was, and is, President Johnson who wants to use Reuther in many areas. The name-check came after a decision to make the Detroit a high - policy consultant to the State Dept.

He passed the test. He is an adviser. He has some cloak and dagger ideas. But that no longer is the province of the FBI. From now on, "Walter" is one of the rarefied elements with which the CIA will have to conjure.

But that is astro - political stuff. Much more earthy is the fact that President Johnson likes him, trusts him and believes he can be something of value on the crackling international front. The feeling is mutual. But this is only the beginning -- though the men have been friends since 1948.

Both the President of the U.S. and the President of the United Auto Workers realize the red-head has an image problem. Many remember the militant young man of the thirties, who so efficiently marched his followers into auto plants, locked them in, sat them down and arranged for their logistics, that an Army major assigned to patrol that particular auto city admirably urged Reuther to join the War Dept.

Reuther and his intellectual brother, Victor, are most conscious of this and some observers now say the union leader is remaking his image -- and perhaps reworking his thinking.

Fact is that Reuther is most eager to work with the President on the poverty front at home and the propaganda and diplomatic fronts abroad.

There is, for example, confidential word from inside the three - man labor bloc in the President's task force on automation that Reuther is taking the most conservative position in the group.

The labor contingent has objected to the majority's report that automation is not a curse and can be bested by stimulating a prosperous economy, so there will be jobs for all despite that old - devil computer.

Two members of the labor contingent, Al Hayes, former president of the militant Machinists and Joe Belme, head of the Communications Workers of America, sometime ago decided to attack this happier viewpoint and urge a shorter work - week as partial answer to the "threat" of the electronic brain. But Reuther has been reluctant to go along.

For Reuther to object, even behind closed doors, to a shorter work - week is like Lyndon Johnson refusing to permit the U. S. to accept a billion dollar repayment in gold from Gen. de Gaulle to even the gold outflow.

But Reuther has fought such a suggestion. President Johnson is opposed to the work - week cut.

Those who have observed Reuther these past few years have been surprised to see him turn from being the loyal opposition to being just plain loyal to Mr. Johnson. Just the other day in Detroit he skinned the image of his former CIO colleague, Mike Quill. Reuther actually said that "Society can't tolerate stoppages which endanger the very existence of society." He even conceded that some strikes were obsolete -- though he was, after all, talking about a subway and bus stoppage.

And it has been the usually placid Machinists' union, not his traditionally - militant Auto - ists, which has been striking the defense and aerospace industries, though both organizations have been and are in new contract negotiations.

Only the handful of us who were on the floor during the final hours of the AFL-CIO Convention, heard Walter Reuther take a position on Viet Nam. He did say:

"I am in support of the (Pro-Viet Nam war) resolution because the resolution stands behind the position of President Johnson. . . ."

If Mr. Reuther is not careful, his old friends will break with him charging he has become an elder statesman.

WASHINGTON -- Most important and secret peace formula so far proposed in the back-stage Viet Nam peace maneuvering is that submitted to Moscow calling for neutralization of the entire Indo - Chinese Peninsula under the International Control Commission.

Net result would be to increase Russian influence in Southeast Asia at the expense of Chinese influence. This the United States much prefers.

Actually, this proposal has been made by the British, but with American willingness to withdraw from Viet Nam, with the International Control Commission then taking over, not only in South Viet Nam but Laos and Cambodia, to keep the entire area neutral. The commission would also take jurisdiction in North Viet Nam.

The International Control Commission was created under the Geneva Treaty of 1954 which arranged for French withdrawal. Its members are India, Canada and Poland. The Russians would have indirect representation through Poland, the United States and Britain would have some influence through Canada.

The commission would have to be given more power and some kind of a police force to enforce neutrality. So far no reply from the Russians. None was really expected until sometime after Shelepin returned from his trip to Hanoi, possibly not until after British Prime Minister Harold Wilson goes to Moscow Feb. 21-24.

As recently revealed by Clayton Fritchey, Ky has told Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge repeatedly that he would not go along with peace talks, that he is not ready to sit down at the conference table, and that the United States cannot commit the government of South Viet Nam to peace.

Chief reason Ky is so jittery is that his government controls only about 700 villages out of 2,600 in South Viet Nam, in other words about one - third of the territory. He isn't strong enough to go to the conference table, and he wouldn't have the ghost of a chance of survival if American troops pulled out.

Some of Ky's military commanders feel even stronger about this, and there have been rumors that if the United States goes too far with peace, Ky will be either ousted or assassinated.

This is why Rusk stopped off in Saigon. He was successful -- publicly. But privately, the bantam Premier of South Viet Nam is still about as sore as a stepped-on crocodile in the Mekong River.

Pan American Airways saved a lot of lives in Brazil when it hustled high speed vaccine injectors down to Rio de Janeiro following the catastrophic rains. The entire city was threatened with plague. . . . Ohio Democrats have picked Mike Sweeney, a highly respected Ohio legislator, to run against unpopular Democratic Congressman Mike Feighan. Once a dedicated member of Congress, Feighan has turned sour.

TENDER TIGER

A different kind of student Viet Nam demonstration is being staged at Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa., where I drilled during World War I. PMC students have organized "Operation Tender Tiger" to build an orphanage in South Viet Nam. "If we win the war and lose the people," says Noel Koch, a 26-year-old Viet Nam war veteran, now at PMC, "then we prove the Biblical admonishment that we profit nothing if we gain the world and lose our souls."

At the rate the Viet Cong are winning popular support in South Viet Nam, Koch would appear to be right.

To combat this, PMC students have devised a symbol of a ferocious tiger with an olive branch in its teeth and are selling "Operation Tender Tiger" buttons to raise money for the orphanage.

The idea has spread to nearby high schools, and 22 of them are also selling Tender Tiger buttons.

Students in other colleges might take note.

President Enjoys Variety In Church Attendance

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON AP -- As a churchgoer, President Johnson enjoys variety. He rarely goes to the same church on successively Sundays.

He has dropped in on the Roman Catholics, the Baptists, the Lutherans, the Presbyterians, the Episcopalians and a Billy Graham revival.

The President, brought up as a Baptist, joined the Christian Church in his teens in Texas. His wife, Lady Bird, and daughter, Lynda, 21, are Episcopalians. Daughter Luci, 18, recently was converted to Roman Catholicism.

The President usually gets a special greeting from the pulpit when he arrives for Sunday worship. And why not, asks the President's pastor, the Rev. Dr. George R. Davis of the National City Christian church in Washington. "I think it's not only right but essential that we pinpoint their presence. It serves as a rightful reminder to the rest of the nation." Johnson frequently makes Sunday excursions to mingle with parishioners at morning hours. He kisses babies, shakes hands, hands out souvenir pens and usually has his picture taken.

The President frequently goes to church with members of his staff and friends and sometimes goes to his churches.

One winter Sunday, Johnson and party sallied across the Potomac to Christ church in Alexandria. They were in time to witness a baptism. When the baby was brought around for him to see, Johnson impulsively took off his gold 1964 campaign tie clasp and fastened it to the baby's dress.

Probably the most spectacular of Johnson's church-hopping occurred during a campaign. The President took his jet on a 500-mile flight to attend Sunday services at the First Presbyterian church of Phoenix, Ariz., home town of his opponent, Barry Goldwater.

The Modern Christian

How do you convince a teen age son and daughter that attending Sunday worship service is important?

You don't. Thoughtful parents know they must respect the freedom and individuality of each son and daughter. They know that there is no way to force teenagers to become mature Christian adults.

Often, however, the problem of maturity is the problem of the parents as well as the youth of the family. Young people will not be led by uncommitted Christian parents. The young adult consciously and subconsciously compares your living styles with what he or she knows to be the great principles of Christian living.

If you go to church on Sunday and shelve it the other six days of the week, the teenager is not deeply impressed. It is one thing, for example, to believe in Christ's wish of visiting the sick and the stranger, and to actually do so within your family living.

There is nothing dramatic about visiting an Old Folks Home or helping some family financially. Never make a big deal out of it. It's phony religion and young adults know it.

Most parents worry about the maturity of their children. When is she old enough to decide things for herself? When is he ready to make a conscious commitment to Christ?

And after every decision, parents find themselves asking, "Did I make a mistake?" They question friends and teachers and ministers. In search of confirmation, they read Ann Landers more avidly than teenagers.

Parents can create an atmosphere that encourages good decisions. Wisdom, wit and good living will gain far more than the indisputable word given from on high. You cannot compel young people to volunteer as babysitters or shovelers of snow. They are iron-willed, energetic, determined and deeply sensitive. They are inclined to those who follow their word with action.

Christ invites the young adult into a journey that is arduous and demanding. The teenager needs all the encouragement that can be offered—not by your words but by your actions. Questions? Write Rev. T. Staed, 217 W. Center, Sikeston.

Johnson is a contributor to his churches, and he likes to add to the comfort of fellow communicants. The white clapboard Christian church in his home town of Johnson City, Tex., where he was baptized as a boy, got a new air conditioner last July. The gift, estimated at $4,000, came from the Johnson City Foundation, established by the President for charitable purposes. And, 30 miles away, historic old St. Barnabas Episcopal church, got its new cushions from the Johnsons.

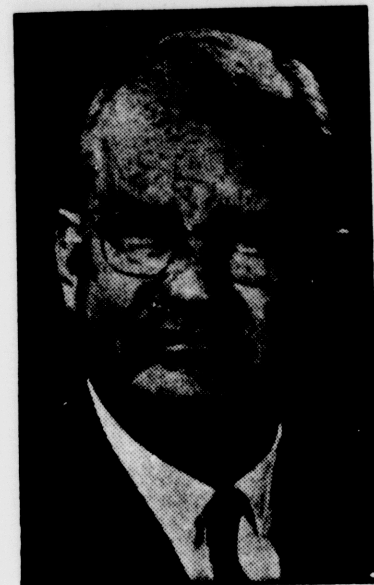

In Washington, Johnson usually alternates between his own church, the National City Christian, and his wife's, St. Mark's Episcopal.

His own sect, sometimes called the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ, is a product of frontier America. It now has 1.8 million members of 8,000 autonomous congregations concentrated in nine states—Indiana, Missouri, Texas, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Oklahoma, California and Nevada.

Dr. Simpson To Conduct Revival

Dr. E. D. Simpson of Maplewood, superintendent of the Missouri District in the Church of the Nazarene, will conduct revival services at the First Church of the Nazarene beginning Monday and continuing through Sunday, Jan. 30. Services begin each evening at 7:30 p.m.

The pastor, the Rev. John D. Rhame, will be in charge of music for the services. Special music will include numbers by the choir.

Rev. Simpson has been superintendent since 1947. Before coming to Missouri, he served six years as superintendent of the Alabama District, where he organized a total of 26 new Nazarene churches.

Mr. Simpson served four years as superintendent of the Alabama District, where he organized a total of 26 new Nazarene churches.

Mr. Simpson served four years on the church General Board, the chief administrative body in the denomination. He was pastor of Nazarene churches at Sapulpa, Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., and Dallas, Tex. He was a full-time evangelist for five years.

Born in Arkansas, he graduated from the former Arkansas Holiness College, Vilonia, Ark., now merged with Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla. He has served as a trustee of Bethany Nazarene College and Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tenn. He is a trustee of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., which conferred an honorary doctoral degree upon him in 1954.

Garden Club's Annual Tea Held Monday

The annual tea of the Rose Gate Garden Club was held Monday at the home of Jane Wilkerson. Mrs. T. B. Allen created the centerpiece for the table, using a traditional mass arrangement of pink roses in a large oval silver container. This centerpiece highlighted the traditional silver setting, with the rose theme symbolizing the club's name. Mrs. Ben Welter presided at the table. Assistant hostesses included Mrs. J. M. Pitman, Mrs. A. F. Lindsay, Mrs. T. B. Allen, Mrs. Pipes Jones, Mrs. J. W. Foley and Mrs. Welter. Miss Margaret Harris and Mrs. Howard Grant were guests.

No installation of officers was held due to the illness of Mrs. Donald Story, but an extensive business session, with a complete outline of the club's work for the year, was conducted by the president, Jane Wilkerson. In the program time available, the Federated Missouri Garden Clubs' promotion of conservation was discussed, with a focus on the "Conservation of the Prairie Flora" being carried out by the State Conservation Commission at Schell City. Mrs. J. Otto Hahs presented the new yearbook covers that she had hand painted.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Matthews with Mrs. Pipes Jones presenting the bird study program. New yearbooks will be distributed then.

One young pastor, the Rev. Martin A. Case, won't forget arriving at the door of the white brick Thurmont Methodist church one Sunday after conducting service at two other towns on his mountain circuit. Secret Service men met him at the door to tell him the President was inside.

Bulldogs Drop Decision To Poplar Bluff

Dogs Play Tonite For Third Place

POPLAR BLUFF -- Sikeston's Bulldogs continued on their downward spin last night losing to the Poplar Bluff Mules 47-28. The Bulldogs, now 4-8 for the season, never were quite up to par on their shooting and missed shot after shot.

Mike Couch fell from his usual 15 points per game average, and scored only three points last night as he scored on only one field goal, and one free throw.

Richard Montgomery was high scorer for the dogs as he tallied 11 points as he was the only player to score in double figures.

Coach Gene Dawson frantically substituted for the chugging Bulldogs--but to no avail, as the Poplar Bluff machine rolled on past the visitors and into the finals of their own tournament.

In the first game of the night the Kennett Indians rolled over the Green Wave of Malden, with an 83-48 score.

Don Tomlinson, All-Stater from Bragg City, scored 34 points for the winning Indians as he scored on 13 field goals and 8 free throws.

For the Green Wave of Malden, Provance and Lee scored 10 points respectively.

The Bulldogs meet the Malden Green Wave tonight in the consolation game at 7:00 followed by the championship game between Kennett and Poplar Bluff at 8:30.

Cape In Non-Conference

Tilt Saturday

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. -- Non-Conference foe Eastern Illinois University visits Southeast Missouri State Saturday for an 8 p.m. game, following which Cape will play seven of its nine remaining games on the road.

Cape, enjoying an 8-4 season record to date, will be meeting the defending champs of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Eastern, however, had its hopes for a repeat performance jolted just before the start of the current season, when two starting players from last year's squad were declared ineligible. To date, the Panthers have mustered only a 4-10 record.

The visitors are led in scoring by 6-4 forward Larry Miller, who is averaging nearly 18 points per game. As a team, Eastern is averaging 76.4 points per game.

Coach Charles Parsley's Indians will be ending a 9-day break for final examinations. Following Saturday's contest, Cape will take the road for four road contests, with only two of the nine remaining games slated to be played at home.

The Indians are led in scoring by sensational junior center Kermit Meystedt, whose 25.3 scoring average and 17.7 rebounding average place him among the nation's statistical leaders in both categories.

Two sophomore guards, Curtis Williams and Charlie Bertrand, are currently backing up Meystedt with scoring averages of 14.2 and 11.3 respectively.

As a team, Cape is averaging 87 points per game to opponents' 78, and have rebounded an average of 57 per game to opponents' 47. In shooting average, the Indians have maintained a respectable 44.4 percent from the field.

Area Youths On Arkansas Team

JONESBORO -- Arkansas State's Indians, beginning an eight-day break from the basketball wars for semester exams, will return to action January 25th against Southeast Missouri seeking their eleventh victory against three losses.

Coach Marvin Speight's Redmen defeated SEMO earlier in the season at Cape Girardeau, Mo., 73-72, led by 6-11 center John Dickson who scored 18 points and grabbed off 18 rebounds.

Dickson is presently leading the Tribe in field goal percentage (.636), rebounding (176 for an average of 14.7) and scoring (241 points with a 20.1 average). Two other Indians are averaging in double figures--guards Gary Crane (10.9) and Larry Treadwell (10.2). Treadwell is also leading in free throw percentage with a mark of .853.

As a team the Indians are shooting better than 52 percent from the field and are out-rebounding their opponents better than 17 rebounds a game.

With their Southland Conference record standing a 1-1, including a win over Trinity (99-84) and a loss to Abilene Christian (58-57), the Indians will open a three-game SLC stand in Indian Field House Jan. 31 against Arlington State, Feb. 5 against Abilene Christian and Feb. 7 against Lamar Tech. The Tribe will close the season with a two-game trip into Texas to face SLC members Lamar Tech and Arlington State.

Two members of the Indians team are former high school standouts from Southeast Missouri.

Gary Crane, who played for the Dexter Bearcats is a fine prospect for the Indians as he shows great desire and skill.

Harold Pershull, a fine forward reserve will see a lot of action in the next two years he has to play. Harold is from the Richland High School of Grayridge and Essex, Missouri.

Both boys played against each other in high school and are now playing for the same team, while in high school these two boys were the top players for their respective schools and played against each other.

Gary and Harold, while in high school made All-State and had numerous honors to such teams as All-District, All-County and All-Class teams.

These two boys make fine representatives from the Southeast Missouri area to display sportsmanship and the skill of playing basketball.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. -- The football Cardinals reached into their own backyard today to sign a free agent for the 1966 season.

He is Jack Biggs, 6-1, 180-pound split end from Washington University of St. Louis. Biggs set season and game pass-receiving records for the Bears in his two seasons as a regular, and received high praise from his coach, Dave Puddington. "Biggs is the finest receiver we've had since I have been here," the coach commented. "He has the ability to get to the football and to catch it, and he has fine speed. I think he stands a chance of making it as a professional."

As a junior, in 1964, the native of Virginia caught 16 passes for 250 yards. In his senior year, he snared 35 for 588 yards, including a record-smashing day against Austin College when he caught seven passes for 196 yards, topped by an 89-yard touchdown.

MCKINLEY LAMBERT, Sikeston's Number 40, jumps against Number 22 of Poplar Bluff, Brian Belknap. Richard Montgomery, Number 23 of Sikeston, watches.

Despite missing most of two games, he led the College Athletic Conference in yards gained with receptions, and he also did the Bears' punting.

Fran Poltfoot, Big Red end coach, said, "Biggs isn't a big fellow, but he has fine moves and excellent speed. In the films we watched, he seemed to catch whatever was thrown to him. His fine speed will help him."

Biggs is the first Washington University player to be signed by the Cardinals in recent years. Wilson (Bud) Schwenk, Washington U. standout in the 1938-41 period, was the Cardinal quarterback in 1942, then played with several All-American Conference teams.

Scott Central And Oran Vie In Finals

SCOTT CITY -- Scott Central and Oran will meet Saturday night in the finals of the Scott-Mississippi conference tournament.

In last night's action Scott Central beat off a stubborn Kelly five 61-58, to win a berth in the finals of the tournament.

R. Taylor led the Scott Central five down the victory row scoring 23 points. For Kelly it was Merick with 19.

Oran had a good third quarter and scored 28 points to end Charleston's hopes of an upset and a berth in the finals.

Metz led all scorers for the night as he scored 28 points for Oran, while Brown led Charleston scorers with 15 points.

In tonight's action Delta and Charleston vie for third place honors in the "B" division, while Kelly and Charleston fight for third place in "A" division competition.

Jesus Said

you shall be hated and Persecuted for my names sake. I have been both hated and persecuted, and though you have been forewarned it hurts when your fellow man can hate so severely, that it seems he enjoys hurting his fellow man, my story began when my wife left her home and took a job in a cafe but after considerable pleading to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lambert they Released my wife and urged her to return home to be with her family... which she did... and our family was happy again because wife and mother was home again... but that happiness was not to endure for long because she then went to Kellets where she was employed... and despite repeated Pleas to the Kellets they refused to consider my Pleas, to return wife and mother back home, and as a result my wife and me are in the divorce Court, on Dec 22nd. I and my young daughter went to Kellets Cafe to see our wife and mother to try to arrange for the family to be together during Christmas, but I was ordered by the Watress to Leave and I replied that I wished to say a few more Words to my wife but she said wouldn't be permitted talk to any more but I did say a few more words to her and because of that a Complaint was issued against me for disturbance not withstanding the that I didnt say anything to anyone except my wife, and in the hearing in the city Police Court, in Sikeston, on Jan 19th 1966, it was denied the Right to explain, My Case buty was bluntly told to shut my Mouth, and the Clerk who it Seems Runs the Police said I would not be permitted to tell and that I was Guilty as Charged which Judge Schrader Concured. I have been informed that I am a marked man by certain Elements in Sikeston who Resent My Religious Stand, though being hated for Standing on the Right. Long and Proffer Operate Switches as Power Flows

Senator Ed V. Long, Elton Proffer, President of M & A Electric Power Coop., Poplar Bluff, and Ray Call, President of Missouri Utilities of Cape Girardeau participated in the Operation High Voltage Inter-connection Ceremony held recently at the headquarters of Associated Electric Cooperative, 2814 South Golden Avenue, Springfield, Missouri.

The current that flowed over Missouri after this ceremony involved five generating cooperative systems and five private utility systems, which are now inter-tied to serve areas all over the State.

"The ceremony marks a day of progress for Mid America," Senator Long told the crowd of 150 people at the ceremony. Prior to pulling the switches, the Senator had said that Missouri would be "criss-crossed with super expressways for electricity."

This was apparent from a giant map of the State on which had been placed colored bulbs, red for certain power stations and green at points, where there was to be a hook-up between power companies and cooperatives.

After Judge Proffer called his dispatcher at Poplar Bluff and Ray Call completed a call to his dispatcher in Cape Girardeau for permission to throw the Idalia tie-in switch, Senator Long then pulled the switches and the green lights turned to red.

Niel Adams, General Manager of the new Associated Electric Power Pool Cooperative, had a call placed each time to call his own engineers on the telephone and ask if everything was ready for the hook-up. It always was. Then the officials of the companies and the cooperatives talked.

Southwestern Bell had fixed things up so that each time all the officials had to do was press a button and it would ring a company phone in Marshfield, Missouri, Clinton, Missouri, St. Louis or Kansas City, as the case might be. These sounds were amplified so the audience could hear the usual telephone conversations and noises. The crowd enjoyed the conversations.

Everything went like clock work and each time a pair of executives received permission from their plant dispatchers, Senator Long pulled the switch.

Activation points and the men participating were: Missouri City - Robert A. Olson, president, Kansas City Power and Light Company and F. A. Mertz, Cameron General Manager, Northwest Electric Power Cooperative.

Clinton - Richard C. Green, Raytown, president, Missouri Public Service Company and Truman Green, Jefferson City, general manager, Central Electric Power Cooperative.

Carthage - J. T. Jones, Joplin, president, Empire District Electric Company and Rex Dewey, Vinita, Okla., KAMO Electric Power Cooperative.

Marion - Carothers and Charles Boulson, general manager, Sho-Me Power Corporation, Marshfield.

Stoddard - Ray W. Call, Cape Girardeau, president, Missouri Utilities Company and Judge Elton Proffer, Sikeston, president, M & A Electric Power Cooperative.

The Associated Electric Cooperative was formed late in 1962 as a pooling agent to supply wholesale power to Missouri's 41 operating cooperatives plans to connect other substations in the future, helpful in supplying power to the utilities and electric power cooperatives.

In setting up these inter-ties, the end result will be a coordinated power system to transmit bulk quantities of electricity, as needed, throughout the State.

Through six G & T Cooperatives, 41 smaller cooperatives in Missouri supply power to 250,000 customers or about one million persons each year, Proffer said.

In addition, reliability and continuity of service over the State will be greatly improved. He believes the coordinated effort will save "millions of dollars" by eliminating duplicate efforts of the cooperatives.

Advanced technology in design of steam electric plants has been the prime reason behind the move to inter-connect power systems throughout the country, Proffer declared.

In addition to efficiency of operations, Proffer noted that power shortages, which arise from an emergency affecting one system, can be quickly met by neighboring systems through the inter-connected system.

Such neighborliness between power systems is a steady safeguard against prolonged interruptions in service.

Jim Stephenson, manager, Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi Elec. Coop., Sikeston, Mo., says that their new "stand-by" interconnection made at Idalia, just outside of Dexter in Stoddard County, will be a life saver to them in case the long transmission line across the Ozarks from the Norfolk Dam should be torn down by a tornado or should a tree fall through it or an airplane tear it down any place along the 160 miles. If damage comes, controls will automatically close switches at Doniphan, Missouri, and the load will be picked up and current will then flow out of Union Electric through Missouri Utilities down from Cape Girardeau to the R.E.A. Coop. lines.

Likewise, if Missouri Utilities should need emergency power, current will flow north into Cape Girardeau from the S.P.A. high voltage government line

Antelopes Will Fly to Florida

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. AP -- About 40 Colorado antelopes soon will be flying to Florida to become regular residents.

An official of the State Game, Fish and Parks Department said the pronghorns will be turned loose on a 200,000-acre tract near Vero Beach. It's an exchange deal, the official said, but it hasn't been determined what Colorado will get in return.

BANGOR, Maine AP -- Police say Richard M. Reynolds, 60, was looking without much success for a cozy jail cell to spend the cold January nights. "Sorry," he was told, "but only criminals are allowed in here."

So, police say, Reynolds heaved a chunk of ice through a window of police headquarters. Then they gave him a cell -- for 90 days.

EVANSTON, Ill. AP -- Former Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges has been nominated for president of Rotary International, the organization has announced. The current president is Dr. C. P. Teenstra of Hilversum, the Netherlands.

BOSTON AP -- The Massachusetts State Division of Fisheries and Game says its annual midwinter inventory of waterfowl shows 96,200 birds down 27 per cent from last year's record.

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. AP -- Methodists gave more for missions in fiscal 1965 than ever before, a report says, but individually they contributed $3.56 a year or about seven cents a week.

Dr. H. Conwell Snook of New York, chief financial officer of the Methodist Board of Missions, said the board had for the fiscal year a total of $36,732,064, an increase of $622,711 over fiscal 1964, the now dead ended at Idalia and supply power into the Missouri Utilities lines.

Both Manager Stephenson and President Proffer expressed appreciation and gratitude for the splendid progress made in the past ten years to provide an amply supply and a new and dependable source of power now flowing into the Bootheel of Missouri.

Small industry can now be served from the new sources, where needed, as well as allowing the cooperatives to continue to provide a sufficient amount of electricity to take care of the growth in usage of the 50,000 families connected to the four cooperatives in Southeast Missouri who create a 5% growth demand per year.

The names of the cooperatives who benefit from the high voltage transmission lines owned by M & A Electric Power Cooperative are:

Black River Electric Cooperative, Fredericktown, Missouri; Pemiscot Dunklin Electric Cooperative, Hayti, Missouri; Ozark Border Electric Cooperative, Poplar Bluff, Missouri; Scott-New Madrid-Miss. Elec. Cooperative, Sikeston, Missouri.

Judge Elton Proffer, Matthews, Missouri, is the president of both the M & A Electric Power Cooperative and Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi Electric Cooperative at Sikeston, Missouri. James W. Owens is manager of the M & A Electric Cooperative. Judge Elton Proffer is also vice-president of the Board of Associated Electric Power Cooperative, Springfield, Missouri.

Mrs. Gandhi Invited to White House

NEW DELHI AP -- President Johnson today invited India's new prime minister, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, to visit him in Washington soon to discuss the "many momentous problems we both face."

Johnson invited Mrs. Gandhi to keep the Feb. 1 date her predecessor, the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, had for a visit to the United States. Johnson added: "I also recognize that your new burdens of office may make this difficult and if you are unable to come then I hope that we can reschedule your visit for an early date so that we can discuss the many momentous problems we both face."

Johnson's message, made public by Mrs. Gandhi's office, congratulated her on her election.

Johnson's letters was delivered by U. S. Ambassador Chester Bowles during a 25-minute call on Mrs. Gandhi. Shastri has been scheduled to visit the United States to discuss American economic aid to India, cut off during the India-Pakistan war in September, and the whole range of U.S.-Indian relations.

Mrs. Gandhi is likely to be preoccupied for the time being with problems at home. India's opposition parties indicated today that she will come under heavy attack soon.

Call, Cape Girardeau, president of Missouri Utilities Company, checking to see if his company is ready for interconnection. In center, Niel Adams, general manager of Associated Electric Cooperative, has established that the connection is ready in Springfield. At right, Judge Elon Proffer, Sikeston, president of Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi Elec. Coop. has just laid down the phone. Jim McNabb, chief engineer for Associated Elec. Cooperative, stands behind Adams.

transmit bulk quantities of electricity, as needed, throughout the State.

Through six G & T Cooperatives, 41 smaller co-operatives in Missouri supply power to 250,000 customers or about one million persons each year, Proffer said.

In addition, reliability and continuity of service over the State will be greatly improved. He believes the coordinated effort will save "millions of dollars" by eliminating duplicate efforts of the co-operatives.

Advanced technology in design of steam electric plants has been the prime reason behind the move to inter-connect power systems throughout the country, Proffer declared.

In addition to efficiency of operations, Proffer noted that power shortages, which arise from an emergency affecting one system, can be quickly met by neighboring systems through the inter-connected system.

Such neighborliness between power systems is a steady safeguard against prolonged interruptions in service.

Jim Stephenson, manager, Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi Elec. Coop., Sikeston, Mo., says that their new "stand-by" interconnection made at Idalia, just outside of Dexter in Stoddard County, will be a life saver to them in case the long transmission line across the Ozarks from the Norfolk Dam should be torn down by a tornado or should a tree fall through it or an airplane tear it down any place along the 160 miles. If damage comes, controls will automatically close switches at Doniphan, Missouri, and the load will be picked up and current will then flow out of Union Electric through Missouri Utilities down from Cape Girardeau to the R.E.A. Coop. lines.

Likewise, if Missouri Utilities should need emergency power, current will flow north into Cape Girardeau from the S.P.A. high voltage government line

now dead ended at Idalia and supply power into the Missouri Utilities lines.

Both Manager Stephenson and President Proffer expressed appreciation and gratitude for the splendid progress made in the past ten years to provide an amply supply and a new and dependable source of power now flowing into the Bootheel of Missouri.

Small industry can now be served from the new sources, where needed, as well as allowing the co-operatives to continue to provide a sufficient amount of electricity to take care of the growth in usage of the 50,000 families connected to the four co-operatives in Southeast Missouri who create a 5% growth demand per year.

The names of the co-operatives who benefit from the high voltage transmission lines owned by M & A Electric Power Cooperative are:

Black River Electric Cooperative, Fredericktown, Missouri; Pemiscot Dunklin Electric Cooperative, Hayti, Missouri; Ozark Border Electric Cooperative, Poplar Bluff, Missouri; Scott-New Madrid-Miss. Elec. Cooperative, Sikeston, Missouri.

Judge Elon Proffer, Matthews, Missouri, is the president of both the M & A Electric Power Cooperative and Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi Electric Cooperative at Sikeston, Missouri. James W. Owens is manager of the M & A Electric Cooperative. Judge Elon Proffer is also vice-president of the Board of Associated Electric Power Cooperative, Springfield, Missouri.

Here and There

Antelopes Will Fly to Florida

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. AP -- About 40 Colorado antelopes soon will be flying to Florida to become regular residents.

An official of the State Game, Fish and Parks Department said the pronghorns will be turned loose on a 200,000-acre tract near Vero Beach. It's an exchange deal, the official said, but it hasn't been determined what Colorado will get in return.

BANGOR, Maine AP -- Police say Richard M. Reynolds, 60, was looking without much success for a cozy jail cell to spend the cold January nights. "Sorry," he was told, "but only criminals are allowed in here."

So, police say, Reynolds heaved a chunk of ice through a window of police headquarters. Then they gave him a cell -- for 90 days.

EVANSTON, Ill. AP -- Former Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges has been nominated for president of Rotary International, the organization has announced. The current president is Dr. C. P. Teestra of Hilversum, the Netherlands.

BOSTON AP -- The Massachusetts State Division of Fisheries and Game says its annual midwinter inventory of waterfowl shows 96,200 birds -- down 27 per cent from last year's record.

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. AP -- Methodists gave more for missions in fiscal 1965 than ever before, a report says, but individually they contributed $3.56 a year or about seven cents a week.

Dr. H. Conwell Snook of New York, chief financial officer of the Methodist Board of Missions, said the board had for the fiscal year a total of $36,732,064, an increase of $622,711 over fiscal 1964, the previous record year.

BERLIN AP -- Money is lying around on West Berlin streets -- and people keep turning it in. That is the report of the police who say their lost and found department has on hand a number of wallets containing between 200 and 300 marks -- $50 to $75 -- valuable rings and a gold bracelet.

Mrs. Gandhi Invited to White House

NEW DELHI AP -- President Johnson today invited India's new prime minister, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, to visit him in Washington soon to discuss the "many momentous problems we both face."

Johnson invited Mrs. Gandhi to keep the Feb. 1 date her predecessor, the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, had for a visit to the United States. Johnson added: "I also recognize that your new burdens of office may make this difficult and if you are unable to come then I hope that we can reschedule your visit for an early date so that we can discuss the many momentous problems we both face."

Johnson's message, made public by Mrs. Gandhi's office, congratulated her on her election.

Johnson's letters was delivered by U. S. Ambassador Chester Bowles during a 25-minute call on Mrs. Gandhi. Shastri has been scheduled to visit the United States to discuss American economic aid to India, cut off during the India-Pakistan war in September, and the whole range of U.S.-Indian relations.

Mrs. Gandhi is likely to be preoccupied for the time being with problems at home. India's opposition parties indicated today that she will come under heavy attack soon.

To Decide On Transfer Of Parks

JEFFERSON CITY AP -- A special legislative committee was asked Tuesday to help Missouri decide soon whether three state parks should be transferred to the National Park Service.

Alley, Round and Big Spring state parks are all inside the area the park service plans to develop into a Wild Rivers National Park along the Current and Jacks Fork rivers.

Lee C. Fine, state director of parks, told the joint legislative committee on outdoor recreation he thought the state shouldn't transfer the parks without some assurance from the National Park Service it would develop them quickly.

He said the three parks need some development but the state park board is reluctant to spend money on them if they are going to be taken over by the National Park Service.

Fine also suggested: State law should be changed so concessionaire contracts at state parks can be longer than two years and the limit of $10,000 net profit annually be increased.

The job of building and maintaining roads in state parks is given to the state highway department. He said the park board staff has neither the know how nor the equipment for the job.

Baptists Told To Change Image

KANSAS CITY AP -- Baptist public relations specialists were told Wednesday they need to change their denomination's image.

Dan Forrester, speaking at the 12th annual workshop of the Baptist Public Relations Association, said too many persons think of Baptists only in terms of opposition to cocktail lounges and drinking.

Forrester, a former president of the association, is public relations director of the Monsanto Chemical Company in St. Louis and was a staff member of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat for 19 years.

He urged the Baptist public relations workers to set specific objectives, both short and long-range, to try to correct the Baptist image.

P. O. Crisman of Dallas, Tex., echoed the plea, saying that only the negative story about Baptists is ever published. Crisman, staff attorney for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said:

"Our approach has been too narrow, too parochial, too bigoted and too provincial. If you don't believe it, ask your son why he chooses to attend a state supported college instead of a Baptist school, and he will tell you."

Crisman urged Baptist public relations workers to tell the positive stories showing Christianity in action -- how the church ministers to persons in need.

Wrong Picture

The picture with the story in Tuesday's paper about Airman Gary D. Wilson, East Prairie, was not of Wilson.

13 In A Series To Acquaint You With The Churches In This Area

Saluting: UNITED CHURCH WOMEN OF SKESTON

What better time could there be to tell about the United Church Women of Skeston than during The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, observed this year from January 18 to the 25, by Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox communions throughout the world and in many instances in joint services, since the UCW declares its purpose to be: "To unite church women in their allegiance to their Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, through a program looking to their integration in the total life and work of the church and to the building of a world Christian community". This purpose is carried out through a program of fellowship, worship, action and giving.

They observe two special days with women around the world: World Day of Prayer and May Fellowship Day. World Day of Prayer (First Friday in Lent) unites them with other Christians in over 100 countries in a bond of prayer and spiritual fellowship when basically, the same service is used by groups in all countries and areas of the world, and their prayers are implemented by their offerings which support interdenominational mission projects at home and abroad. And May Fellowship (First Friday in May) promotes Christian fellowship in the local community. This year World Day of Prayer will be on February 25, at the Fellowship Baptist Church, 228 Missouri St., at 2:00 P.M. with Mrs. Pam Blackman as chairman. Women of various churches will take part on the program and all women are urged to attend. The place and time of May Fellowship Day will be announced later.

They have sponsored the UNICEF Halloween collection for many years and worked through the State Employment Office personnel last summer, to have the church represented at the Farm Labor Camp during the busy season to give comfort and assistance to the migrants going through the camp.

Some years ago, they helped establish and furnish a Prayer Room at the Delta Community Hospital, which is still in use.

An annual meeting is held every January to elect new officers, to hear reports and to make plans for the ensuing year. The meeting for 1966 will be on January 27, at the First Methodist Church at 12:30 P.M.

The present officers are: President, Mrs. Jack Mitchell; Vice-president, Mrs. Vincent Wissman; Secretary, Mrs. Sherman Grant; and Treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Paige.

To Decide On Transfer Of Parks

JEFFERSON CITY AP -- A special legislative committee was asked Tuesday to help Missouri decide soon whether three state parks should be transferred to the National Park Service.

Alley, Round and Big Spring state parks are all inside the area the park service plans to develop into a Wild Rivers National Park along the Current and Jacks Fork rivers.

Lee C. Fine, state director of parks, told the joint legislative committee on outdoor recreation he thought the state shouldn't transfer the parks without some assurance from the National Park Service it would develop them quickly.

He said the three parks need some development but the state park board is reluctant to spend money on them if they are going to be taken over by the National Park Service.

Fine also suggested: State law should be changed so concessionaire contracts at state parks can be longer than two years and the limit of $10,000 net profit annually be increased.

The job of building and maintaining roads in state parks be given to the state highway department. He said the park board staff has neither the know nor the equipment for the job.

Baptists Told To Change Image

KANSAS CITY AP -- Baptist public relations specialists were told Wednesday they need to change their denomination's image.

Dan Forrestal, speaking at the 12th annual workshop of the Baptist Public Relations Association, said too many persons think of Baptists only in terms of opposition to cocktail lounges and drinking.

Forrestal, a former president of the association, is public relations director of the Monsanto Chemical Company in St. Louis and was a staff member of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat for 19 years.

He urged the Baptist public relations workers to set specific objectives, both short and long-range, to try to correct the Baptist image.

P. O. Crisman, of Dallas, Tex., echoed the plea, saying that only the negative story about Baptists is ever published. Crisman, staff attorney for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said:

"Our approach has been too narrow, too parochial, too bigoted and too provincial. If you don't believe it, ask your son why he chooses to attend a state supported college instead of a Baptist school, and he will tell you."

Crisman urged Baptist public relations workers to tell the positive stories showing Christianity in action -- how the church ministers to persons in need.

13 In A Series To Acquaint You With The Churches In This Area

Saluting: UNITED CHURCH WOMEN OF SKESTON

What better time could there be to tell about the United Church Women of Skeston than during The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, observed this year from January 18 to the 25, by Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox communions throughout the world and in many instances in joint services, since the UCW declares its Purpose to be: "To unite church women in their allegiance to their Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, through a program looking to their integration in the total life and work of the church and to the building of a world Christian community". This purpose is carried out through a program of fellowship, worship, action and giving.

They observe two special days with women around the world: World Day of Prayer and May Fellowship Day. World Day of Prayer (First Friday in Lent) unites them with other Christians in over 100 countries in a bond of prayer and spiritual fellowship when basically, the same service is used by groups in all countries and areas of the world, and their prayers are implemented by their offerings which support interdenominational mission projects at home and abroad. And May Fellowship (First Friday in May) promotes Christian fellowship in the local community. This year World Day of Prayer will be on February 25, at the Fellowship Baptist Church, 228 Missouri St., at 2:00 P.M. with Mrs. Pam Blackman as chairman. Women of various churches will take part on the program and all women are urged to attend. The place and time of May Fellowship Day will be announced later.

They have sponsored the UNICEF Halloween collection for many years and worked through the State Employment Office personnel last summer, to have the church represented at the Farm Labor Camp during the busy season to give comfort and assistance to the migrants going through the camp.

Some years ago, they helped establish and furnish a Prayer Room at the Delta Community Hospital, which is still in use.

An annual meeting is held every January to elect new officers, to hear reports and to make plans for the ensuing year. The meeting for 1966 will be on January 27, at the First Methodist Church at 12:30 P.M.

The present officers are: President, Mrs. Jack Mitchell; Vice-president, Mrs. Vincent Wissman; Secretary, Mrs. Sherman Grant; and Treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Paige.

FINDING THE WAY

We Must Keep in Touch

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I had been saying farewell to a family moving to another city. "We must keep in touch with one another," we said. Yet we knew the problems of doing this in a time of increasing mobility. It's easy to lose touch. Our best plans miscarry as easily as the elaborate techniques of the tracking stations lose contact with a straying satellite.

In the same way we lose touch with life itself. The reporter goes to Viet Nam to know about the battlefield from a first-hand point of view. The social worker must live among the people of Appalachia to understand their problems. The doctor must literally touch the patient to diagnose and prescribe. The clergyman must live in the marketplace and place of business to keep in touch.

This is no new necessity. Isaiah discussed his sense of vocation in terms of having an angel touch his lips. A woman wanted to touch the hem of Jesus' garment and mothers brought their children for Jesus to touch them. Centuries later, Kipling said:

*"If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose
the common touch,
You'll be a man, my son."*

Yet here's the problem. One has to do more than touch life. One has to keep in touch with power to meet the need. Our problem is that we might lose touch with life altogether or get bogged down in the problems without sensing any power. We have to keep in touch on a double front—dealing with the present with some power to deal with the situation!

The biographer Nicoll wrote, "Newton was not the first to observe the fall of an apple but he was the first to see the falling apple in relation to the stars." It is this sense of relationship that makes the difference. Lose this and one loses touch!

It's important that we see the slums. Too many people have shut the unpleasant sights of a city from their eyes and consciences, but we have to see the unhappiness in relation to the power to handle it and the love that can redeem it. We need to see the sin in terms of our own sin and the love of God that keeps in touch with each of us.

There was a break in a cable in a television studio one day. All of the preparation, the programming and the preliminary work was being jeopardized by this mechanical break. One man picked up the broken ends and held them together. So a program was broadcast. Most of us are in that place holding the broken pieces together in our families, our neighborhoods or our cities. The power that keeps in touch with us, needs to reach through us to keep in touch with others!

Nine other council members, whose terms of office will end March 1, 1966 and whose areas did not have a sufficient number of candidates to conduct an election will be reappointed to the council or persons will be named to replace them. They are: Carl Jones of Kennett Route One, Mrs. Clyde Seals of Campbell Route Two, Paul Todd of Gibson, Mrs. Paul Hays of Clarkson Route One, Mrs. John Summitt of Cardwell, Winthrop Harris of Senath Route Two, and Mrs. Harold O'Kelley of Gobler Star Route.

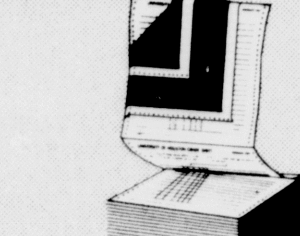

Three Southeast Missouri counties conduct their elections by mail -- New Madrid, Stoddard and Mississippi. In this system the ballots are mailed out to eligible voters in every area or district with names of candidates running for membership from their district. The ballot must be marked and mailed not later than the date of the election to be counted. These ballots are not usually compiled until Friday or Saturday following the election, to allow ample time for ballots to arrive in the Extension Center office.

A regular-type election was conducted in Scott County yesterday and membership elected to the Extension Council from all five districts. Officials in Cannes decided to shorten the airstrips at the new airport. The city wants to discourage flights of noisy jet planes. Motto: "Fly to the airport of our neighbor Nice, then come to Cannes to sleep in peace."

I-57 Progress in Illinois Reported to Cairo Citizens

CAIRO -- The segment of I-57 from north of Ullin to the Grand Chain Road is scheduled to be opened in July or August. Peyton Berbling reported to Chamber of Commerce directors. He said this section of the highway has been completed. Land acquisition in Pulaski county is expected to be completed this year. Acquisition of right-of-way is expected to begin this year in Alexander county and be completed next year.

Berbling said a four-lane highway is being planned into Cairo from new Route three at the drive-in theatre and Bruce Lumber stacks.

Work on the I-57 bridge across the Mississippi is set to begin in 1966 and will take approximately three years to complete. An estimated $8,311,000 of I-57 construction is to be done in Pulaski and Alexander Counties this year. "Everything sounds encouraging on highway construction," Berbling declared. Berbling also reported to the chamber board that the first phase of building the Mound City high lift dam is now underway. He said U.S. Engineers began taking core samples of soil from the river bed this week. Letters have been sent to 50 congressmen and senators, asking their support in this project according to Berbling.

In the approximately five years needed to complete the project, several thousand persons will be employed. This year Congress appropriated $165,000 for preliminary planning of the huge dam on the Ohio River.

Claude Stuart, chairman of the Alexander County Central Water District, reported that rapid progress is being made on the new water district. He told the chamber board that about 100 users have already signed up. A total of 500 users must be signed before the district becomes eligible to receive a federal loan and grant to install the water facilities. Robert Layton, executive secretary of the chamber, reported that progress is being made on the chamber's Avenue of Flags project. Flags from the embassies of several nations have already arrived and present plans are that these will be later placed along Washington Ave., as a tourist attraction.

Raise Funds To File for Injunction

KENNETT -- The Association for St. Francis Flood Control completed the raising of funds at a meeting held in Dudley to finance the filing of an injunction against the U. S. Corps of Engineers at Memphis, Tenn. A total of $1,250 has been raised for this purpose. Attorneys Powell, Jones and Ringer of Dexter have been engaged by the association as counselors in the case of the St. Francis area farmers against the Engineer Corps in their demand for a change in the practice of releasing water at Wappapello Dam.

Approximately 50 representatives from the cropland area flooded by water released from Wappapello last September during a period of high water were in attendance at the meeting, according to Virgil Low of Kennett Route Two, the Dunklin County committeeman on the association.

The injunction was first drawn up in October but withheld when Maj. Gen. Ellsworth L. Davis, president of the Mississippi River Commission, said the dam operating program would be restudied toward the possibility of changes and a report made to the association within 45 days. No changes have been indicated to the association and their intention to file the injunction was continued.

Heavy rains last September above Wappapello Dam caused the water level at the flood gates to rise and the spillway was opened to allow approximately 6,000 cubic feet per second to flow out into St. Francis River. Equally heavy rains below the dam had resulted in near-flood conditions along the river and, with the addition of water from the spillway, cropland from the dam to Chalk Bluff was inundated.

The injunction will request that Wappapello Dam be operated for flood control in the area below the dam from March 15 to Nov. 30 each year and that the Engineer Corps change its practices in releasing water at the spillway so that cropland below the dam will be protected.

Bradley Jolly of Fisk is chairman of the Association for St. Francis Flood Control and presided at the meeting Friday for Clay County, Ark. The association will meet Feb. 3, at the Men's Club in Wilhelmina. Although the association does not expect a hearing on the injunction before that date, the meeting will be conducted in order to strengthen its position on the controversy.

Kennett Motel Changes Hands

KENNETT -- A major real-estate transaction was completed in Kennett when the Ken Motel, located on South By-Pass just off the east intersection of Highway 84 and 25, was sold by Register R. Byrd to Paul Gargas.

Byrd, head of the Byrd Construction Co., built the 17-unit motel in 1952. He will release ownership on April 1 in order to give more time to his construction work.

Gargas, who operates a distributing trucker business for Dortch's Baking Co. of Memphis, Tenn., said that he plans to build living quarters for his family adjacent to the motel.

To Take Bids For Joplin Clinic

JEFFERSON CITY AP -- Bids will be opened in the Capitol Feb. 17 for construction of a regional diagnostic clinic for the mentally retarded at Joplin.

Dr. George A. Ulett, director of the Division of Mental Diseases, said today it is the first of the nine new clinics authorized by the 1965 legislature to reach the bid stage.

Sites of the other clinics, to cost about $400,000 each, are at Albany, Springfield, Rolla,

JUNIOR WOMAN'S club representatives were present Wednesday at the home of W. E. Derris, as he presented the club with a check of undisclosed amount to begin a new project -- a park-- at the corner of South Prairie and Edmundson streets. From left are, Ruth Ann Taylor, corresponding secretary; Linda Freeman, treasurer; Judy Throgmorton, vice president; Derris; Linda Carmody, president, and Ann Elliott, secretary.

Hannibal, Sikeston, Poplar Bluff, Kirksville and Kansas City, Dr. Ulett said bids for their construction will be sought soon. Some of the clinics are expected to be in operation by next year.

School Director Announcement
We are authorized to announce as a candidate subject to the will of the voters in the R-6 School District, of the School Election, on Tuesday, April 5th, 1966:
For Director:
Lee Austin Bowman, 4 Bel Air.

I-57 Progress in Illinois Reported to Cairo Citizens

CAIRO -- The segment of I-57 from north of Ullin to the Grand Chain Road is scheduled to be opened in July or August. Peyton Berbling reported to chamber of commerce directors.

He said this section of the highway has been completed. Land acquisition in Pulaski county is expected to be completed this year. Acquisition of right-of-way is expected to begin this year in Alexander county and be completed next year.

Berbling said a four-lane highway is being planned into Cairo from new Route three at the drive - in theatre and Bruce Lumber stacks.

Work on the I-57 bridge across the Mississippi is set to begin in 1966 and will take approximately three years to complete.

An estimated $8,311,000 of I-57 construction is to be done in Pulaski and Alexander counties this year. "Everything sounds encouraging on highway construction," Berbling declared.

Berbling also reported to the chamber board that the first phase of building the Mound City high lift dam is now underway. He said U.S. Engineers began taking core samples of soil from the river bed this week. Letters have been sent to 50 congressmen and senators, asking their support in this project according to Berbling.

In the approximately five years needed to complete the project, several thousand persons will be employed. This year Congress appropriated $165,000 for preliminary planning of the huge dam on the Ohio River.

Claude Stuart, chairman of the Alexander County Central Water District, reported that rapid progress is being made on the new water district. He told the chamber board that about 100 users have already signed up. A total of 500 users must be signed before the district becomes eligible to receive a federal loan and grant to install the water facilities.

Robert Layton, executive secretary of the chamber, reported that progress is being made on the chamber's Avenue of Flags project. Flags from the embassies of several nations have already arrived and present plans are that these will be later placed along Washington Ave., as a tourist attraction.

Jefferson City AP -- Bids will be opened in the Capitol Feb. 17 for construction of a regional diagnostic clinic for the mentally retarded at Joplin.

Dr. George A. Ulett, director of the Division of Mental Diseases, said today it is the first of the nine new clinics authorized by the 1965 legislature to reach the bid stage.

Sites of the other clinics, to cost about $400,000 each, are at Albany, Springfield, Rolla, for Clay County, Ark.

The association will meet Feb. 3, at the Men's Club in Wilhelmina. Although the association does not expect a hearing on the injunction before that date, the meeting will be conducted in order to strengthen its position on the controversy.

Kennett Motel Changes Hands

KENNETT -- A major real-estate transaction was completed in Kennett when the Ken Motel, located on South By-Pass just off the east intersection of Highway 84 and 25, was sold by Register R. Byrd to Paul Gargas.

Byrd, head of the Byrd Construction Co., built the 17-unit motel in 1952. He will release ownership on April 1 in order to give more time to his construction work.

Gargas, who operates a distributing trucker business for Dorch's Baking Co. of Memphis, Tenn., said that he plans to build living quarters for his family adjacent to the motel.

To Take Bids For Joplin Clinic

JEFFERSON CITY AP -- Bids will be opened in the Capitol Feb. 17 for construction of a regional diagnostic clinic for the mentally retarded at Joplin.

Dr. George A. Ulett, director of the Division of Mental Diseases, said today it is the first of the nine new clinics authorized by the 1965 legislature to reach the bid stage.

Sites of the other clinics, to cost about $400,000 each, are at Albany, Springfield, Rolla,

JUNIOR WOMAN'S club representatives were present Wednesday at the home of W. E. Derris, as he presented the club with a check of undisclosed amount to begin a new project -- a park-- at the corner of South Prairie and Edmundson streets. From left are, Ruth Ann Taylor, corresponding secretary; Linda Freeman, treasurer; Judy Throgmorton, vice president; Derris; Linda Carmody, president, and Ann Elliott, secretary.

Hannibal, Sikeston, Poplar Bluff, Kirksville and Kansas City, Dr. Ulett said bids for their construction will be sought soon.

Some of the clinics are expected to be in operation by next year.

A burning purpose attracts others who are drawn along with it and help fulfill it.

FINDING THE WAY

We Must Keep in Touch

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I had been saying farewell to a family moving to another city. "We must keep in touch with one another," we said. Yet we knew the problems of doing this in a time of increasing mobility. It's easy to lose touch. Our best plans miscarry as easily as the elaborate techniques of the tracking stations lose contact with a straying satellite.

In the same way we lose touch with life itself. The reporter goes to Viet Nam to know about the battlefront from a first-hand point of view. The social worker must live among the people of Appalachia to understand their problems. The doctor must literally touch the patient to diagnose and prescribe. The clergyman must live in the marketplace and place of business to keep in touch.

This is no new necessity. Isaiah discussed his sense of vocation in terms of having an angel touch his lips. A woman wanted to touch the hem of Jesus' garment and mothers brought their children for Jesus to touch them.

Centuries later, Kipling insisted: "If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with kings--nor lose the common touch, You'll be a man, my son."

Yet here's the problem. One has to do more than touch life. One has to keep in touch with power to meet the need. Our problem is that we might lose touch with life altogether or get bogged down in the problems without sensing any power. We have to keep in touch on a double front--dealing with the present with some power to deal with the situation!

The biographer Nicoll wrote, "Newton was not the first to observe the fall of an apple but he was the first to see the falling apple in relation to the stars." It is this sense of relationship that makes the difference. Lose this and one loses touch!

It's important that we see the slums. Too many people have shut the unpleasant sights of a city from their eyes and consciences, but we have to see the unhappiness in relation to the power to handle it and the love that can redeem it. We need to see the sin in terms of our own sin and the love of God that keeps in touch with each of us.

There was a break in a cable in a television studio one day. All of the preparation, the programming and the preliminary work was being jeopardized by this mechanical break. One man picked up the broken ends and held them together. So a program was broadcast. Most of us are in that place holding the broken pieces together in our families, our neighborhoods or our cities. The power that keeps in touch with us, needs to reach through us to keep in touch with others!

Nine other council members, whose terms of office will end March 1, 1966 and whose areas did not have a sufficient number of candidates to conduct an election will be reappointed to the council or persons will be named to replace them. They are: Carl Jones of Kennett Route One, Mrs. Clyde Seals of Campbell Route Two, Paul Todd of Gibson, Mrs. Paul Hays of Clarkton Route One, Mrs. John Summitt of Cardwell, Winston Harris of Senath Route Two, and Mrs. Harold O'Kelley of Gobler Star Route.

Three Southeast Missouri counties conduct their elections by mail -- New Madrid, Stoddard and Mississippi. In this system the ballots are mailed out to eligible voters in every area or district with names of candidates running for membership from their district. The ballot must be marked and mailed not later than the date of the election to be counted. These ballots are not usually mailed until Friday or Saturday following the election, to allow ample time for ballots to arrive in the Extension Center office.

A regular-type election was conducted in Scott County yesterday and membership elected to the Extension Council from all five districts.

Officials in Cannes decided to shorten the airstrips at the new airport. The city wants to discourage flights of noisy jet planes. Motto: "Fly to the airport of our neighbor Nice, then come to Cannes to sleep in peace."

---L'Espoir, Nice

Burge And Duncan Win Council Posts

KENNETT -- Joe Burge of Malden and Norvel W. Duncan of Kennett were the winners of two Dunklin County University Extension Council area elections.

Duncan, who is a member of the council, was re-elected by Area V (Independence Township) voters as their choice over T. A. Brown, Jr. Joe Burge received the majority of votes cast in area I (Cotton Hill Township) to defeat J. W. Evans

High School news, Homeroom 10C held a "Baby Picture Contest" Tuesday morning. Each member of the sophomore homeroom brought his baby picture which was entered in a competition against the others for prizes for the prettiest baby and the baby who had changed the least. First prize, 25 cents in victory stamps, was given Lloyd Shy for being the prettiest baby; second prize, a 10 cent stamp, went to Charles Tanner. First prize for having changed the least went to Ann Schulte; second, Lawrence Wallace. Mr. Stallings and Mr. Van Bibber were the judges.

The ice on the streets and sidewalks Monday morning made it ideal for butt busting. Thirty-five hundred pounds of used clothing were collected during the city of Sikeston clothing drive conducted on January 19 under the direction of Carl Corbin, county-wide chairman.

George Seufert, present constable of Richland township, is today announcing his candidacy for the office of chief of police of Sikeston.

THE PRAYER

For Today From The Upper Room

They took offense at him... And he marvelled because of their unbelief.

PRAYER: Our Father, we are thankful for young people who have been disturbed by Christ and by conditions in our world. We pray that they will lead the church of the future into greater achievements in building Thy Kingdom. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Bertie Bixler passed away at his home on January 10 at the age of 44 years, 7 months and 2 days. He died from blood poisoning.

Mrs. Levi Cook will be pianist at the Malone Theatre beginning Monday night.

Morehouse -- Ira Menees and family have moved into the J.W. Simms home last week. Mr. Simms will make his home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yamitz of Big Opening invited some of their friends from Sikeston to a barbeque dinner Sunday at their home. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. Lizzie Fuchs and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fuchs.

James L. Malone announced Thursday that he will give instruction in flying to air-minded Southeast Missourians.

Herman Mattingly, sr., died at his home in Charleston Thursday of a heart ailment and attendant complications.

Al Glover died early Saturday morning after an extended illness. Death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mr. Glover had been confined to his religious beliefs at all.

Should we say our grace when we entertain? Should we select a more universal prayer? Should we pray in our own way before the guests arrive? Or should we skip the prayer altogether when we have company? -- MRS. Q.

Dear Mrs. Q.: Since grace is a part of your daily lives I see no reason to skip the prayer or to say it before the guests arrive.

The best solution would be for you and your husband to bow your heads and say a silent prayer. Those who want to join you will do so. In this way each one can pray in his own way -- or not at all if that is his choice.

Dear Ann Landers: Almost 49 years ago I married my first wife. The marriage lasted 13 years. I left her and our three children to chase around. Two years later I married a woman who was eight years my junior. We stayed married until 1960 when she was killed in an accident.

Several months ago I started to go with my first wife again. She remained single and has done a fine job of raising the children. I find her more attractive now than when we first met more than a half a century ago.

We have both learned a lot and I am sure we could find happiness together in the years left to us. We want your answer so we can celebrate our golden wedding anniversary next year. What do you say?

-- SECOND TIME AROUND

Dear Second: If you want to remarry, go ahead. According to my calculations, however, you will not soon be candidates for a golden wedding celebration. You are shy about 36 years of living together, my friends.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers booklet, gives authoritative and complete information on how to plan a wedding. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

White House Wit

LYNDON B. JOHNSON
President, 1963

President Johnson told this story to a group of business leaders meeting with him at the White House:

"A woman telephoned her bank. She wanted to arrange for the disposal of a $1,000 bond. The clerk asked her, 'Madam, is the bond for redemption or conversion?' There was a long pause and the woman said, 'Well, am I talking to the First National Bank or the First Baptist Church?'"

President Johnson has lightened many speeches with this anecdote: "A member of the Internal Revenue Service telephoned a Baptist minister one day and said, 'I am reviewing the tax return of one of the members of your church and he listed a donation of two hundred dollars to the church. Can you tell me if he made the contribution?'"

"The minister replied: 'I don't have my records in front of me, but if he didn't, he will.'"

President Johnson was asked by a reporter what his golf handicap was, and he replied: "I don't have any; I am all handicap."

BLTYHEVILLE AFB, ARK. -- Airman First Class Clarence S. Everette has been selected by Second Air Force Headquarters, Barksdale AFB, La., as Maintenance Man of the Month.

Assigned to the 65th Munitions Maintenance Squadron, Airman Everette is a leading evaluation team safety monitor.

In this capacity he has been given the rating of "highly qualified," the highest rating which can be given to a leading team member. Along the same lines, personnel who have trained under Airman Everette have also been awarded the "highest qualified" rating.

The prime responsibility of the safety monitor is the safety and reliability of the weapons loaded on tactical aircraft. Major William A. Carroll, 65th Munitions Maintenance Squadron commander, said, "Airman Everette's professional pride is evident in his accomplishments and his records are almost perfect."

A notice of Longview, Tex., Airman Everette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Everette, also of Longview.

He entered the service in February 1961, and was assigned to the 65th MMS branch in July 1965.

Highway Patrolmen Learn Hazards of Drinking

DEXTER -- Highway Patrolmen of Troop E in Southeast Missouri are learning by experience the degrees and hazards of drunkenness.

Although the Troop E area has its share of drunken drivers, these are not available on demand. So the troopers serve as guinea pigs as they learn to work with "breathalyzers" in testing drivers involved in traffic accidents.

Trooper L. O. Enderle of Dexter, who attended a recent two-weeks course at W. C. Holding Community College in Raleigh, N.C., is the instructor. A designated group of patrolmen were released from regular duty and attended a 44-hour course held at the Dexter Armory from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each week-day last week and half a day on Monday of this week. The course will be continued until all patrolmen have completed the study.

According to Sgt. Wayne Brooks of Kennett, who was one of eight men in the first class conducted, each patrolman is given 5 ounces of 100-proof whiskey and allowed 45 minutes to drink it. Exactly 15 minutes after each has finished his drink they start testing with the "breathalyzers." For the first hour each man is run through the test just as fast as it can be done and then tests are made every 15 minutes until the subject shows no concentration of alcohol in him.

The instruments for testing are portable but will not be carried in Highway Patrol cars. Subjects suspected of drunkenness will be taken to the nearest place where an instrument is known to be situated or the instrument will be taken to the scene of the accident. The instruments are produced by the Stevenson Corporation.

Patrolmen in Troop E, with headquarters at Poplar Bluff are expected to complete their courses by about the middle of February and at that time the instruments for testing drunken drivers will be issued to each zone in the area.

Attending the first class at Dexter, besides Sgt. Brooks, were Sgt. Jeff Hickman of Hayti, Sgt. Jack Pritchard of Dexter, Sgt. George Montgomery and Lt. Eugene B. Burnum of Poplar Bluff, Sgt. Gene Harris of Sikeston, Sgt. Glenn Lamplsey of Cape Girardeau and Sgt. Raymond Holman of Fredericktown.

Troopers R. A. Hurst and Joe Matthews of Kennett will attend one of the classes within the next few weeks. This course is being conducted all over the

Parked Police Car Struck

DEXTER -- A 1964 Buick, local police car was hit while parked on North Main Street Friday at 6:50 p.m. According to an investigation started by police and continued by the highway patrol two people were held in connection with the accident.

The police report said that Sue Ann Stewart, 24, Route 1, Puxico, and Dewey Dean Lusk, Dexter resident, were questioned in connection with the accident.

First indications were that the Stewart woman was driving the car but Lusk later allegedly said that he was operating the car at the time of the mishap, according to police. Lusk was arrested on a bad check charge, posted bond to appear in magistrate court Thursday, according to Sheriff Ralph Temples. The Stewart woman posted a $1,000 bond and will also appear in magistrate court Thursday, the Sheriff said.

The accident report said that Lyman Bean, police officer, was not in the police car at the time of the accident, but had been driving the vehicle.

The charge on the police report was against the Stewart woman for leaving the scene of the accident and for having no operators license, according to the reporting officer, Gaylan Collier, highway patrolman.
